Foreign Minister Seen On Way Out

Czech Reform Organizer Quits Under Red Pressure

BULLETIN

PRAGUE (AP) — Strict censorship rules were announced today as the Soviet Union tightened its grip on occupied Czechoslovakia. The architect of Czechoslovakia's economic reform program resigned and the foreign minister appeared to be on the way out.

PRAGUE (AP) — The architect of Czechoslovakia's economic reform program has resigned and the foreign minister appears to be on the way out as a result of policies that angered the Kremlin.

Deputy Premier Ota Sik, whose policies envisioned trade and aid from the West and efforts to break free from dependence on the Soviet Union, resigned Tuesday night, Prague Radio reported. It said President Ludvik Svoboda acepted the resignation.

The Soviet government made plain it also expects the ouster of Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek. The government newspaper Izvestia called him an "accomplice of the dark forces of reaction and counterrevolution" and accused him of seeking foreign policy changes which Moscow opposes, including closer ties with the West.

Hajek also angered the Soviets by seeking the support of Communist Yugoslavia and Romania—both rebels against Kremlin domination—in what looked like a revival of the pre-World War II Little Entente.

Izvestia also attacked Sik along with Planning Minister Frantisek Vlasak and State Control Minister Stefan Gasparik.

Vlasak and Gasparik returned to Prague from Yugoslavia Tuesday, but Sik remained in Belgrade and Hajek is in Switzerland. Sik and Hajek have been abroad since before Soviet, Bulgarian, Hungaria, Polish and East German troops invaded Czechoslovakia on Aug. 20.

Hajek came to New York for the U.N. Security Council debate on the invasion, but on orders from Prague asked the council to drop the matter after Soviet and Czechoslovak leaders reached an agreement in four days of negotiations in Moscow.

That agreement provided for gradual withdrawal of occupation troops as the situation "normalized," but Czechoslovak Communist party officials seem increasingly convinced that the Russians will stay for years, perhaps decades.

The invasion frayed the ideological ties that bound the Czechoslovak army to its Warsaw Pact allies and one Communist source said: "I just cannot see how they could risk leaving our country during the next 10 years."

The Czechoslovak army stood firmly behind liberal Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek and supplied emergency transmitters to the underground radio stations that operated extensively during the first 10 days of the occupation.

One Way To Meet New Soviet Threat

U.S., NATO Pledge Due For Europe Troop Levels

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is willing to pledge along with its NATO allies to maintain current troop levels in Europe as one way to meet the new Soviet threat, administration sources say.

The sources say the issuing of such a pledge probably would be done in a joint statement.

They said this was among alternatives before the National Security Council at a meeting today called to chart policy toward the Soviet presence in Czechoslovakia, which points like a dagger at the heart of free Europe.

President Johnson called the late afternoon session with his top military, defense and diplomatic aides earlier in the week while winding up a long stay at his ranch in Texas. He returned to Washington today.

The session parallels a similar review now going on in the inner chambers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at Brussels.

Decisions made here will be transmitted to the U.S. contingent at NATO with the hope it will spur unity is any military or diplomatic retrenchment to meet the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia and what some consider threatening gestures toward Romania.

Czechoslovakia now harbors an estimated 200,000 elite Red invasion troops and appears to be causing the most concern.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was described Tuesday as accepting the word of Russian Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin that his country does not plan to invade Romania.

Fresh reports of a troop build-up along that nation's borders, however, prompted President Johnson last week to beam straight at Moscow a speech that warned it "not to usleash the dogs of war." And the subject was on the table before the NCS.

Ike Keeps Improving, Doctors End Bulletins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower's progress recuperating from his seventh heart attack reached the point where doctors have stopped issuing daily bulletins.

For the second straight day doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said Tuesday, "His progress continues to be favorable."

They added there would be no further word on the 77-year-old general and former president until there is a significant change in his condition.

His latest attack was Aug. 16, the fourth in a series that started April 29.

Grid Parade Set At 7:30 On Thursday

The annual football parade will be held here Thursday night, starting at 7:30.

Units will assemble in the Loblaws parking lot, a change from past years. The parade will move down Bradshaw Ave., go south on Walnut, turn west on 5th, north on Jackson, go east on 6th and return to Loblaws.

The East Liverpool High School marching band and the Shrine Band will provide the music. The cheerleaders and majorettes from the high school will participate as well as the players and coaches.

Others in the parade will include members of the board of education and the school administration, the Vi-Lar Kadettes and teams and cheerleaders from the Bill Booth football Little League. The parade has been organized by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

After the parade there will be a pep rally in the Diamond, set up by the cheerleaders. Members of the team will speak.

Nha Trang Attack Kills Policeman And Wounds 38

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong gunners shelled another major South Vietnamese city today, and the U.S. Command reported three American helicopters and a fighter-bomber shot down in the South. But a general lull in sustained fighting continued into a fifth day.

Hanoi Declares HHH, Nixon To Push War

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam declared today at the Paris peace talks that both Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon, the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates, plan to push the war in Vietnam.

The United States replied that both the Democrats and Republicans want peace.

Two of the aircraft, a $2 million Air Force F4 Phantom and an Army helicopter, were downed three miles from the Cambodian border Tuesday, but all six crewmen were rescued. The Phantom was supporting allied infantrymen northwest of Tay Ninh, and the helicopter was shot down as it tried to rescue the Phantom's two crewmen. Two other helicopters completed the rescue.

Ground fire brought down another chopper in the central highlands, near An Khe. One crewman was injured and the helicopter was destroyed.

The third helicopter was shot down on a combat assault mission 15 miles southwest of Saigon. Three crewmen were killed and a fourth wounded. This was in the same general area where American infantrymen clashed late Tuesday with an enemy force of unknown size. Fourteen of the enemy and four Americans were killed and 22 Americans were wounded.

A total of 933 American helicopters now have been downed in combat in South Vietnam during the war, while the Phantom was the 300th fighter-bomber downed in combat in South Vietnam.

Nha Trang, headquarters of the U.S. 1st Field Force 200 miles northeast of Saigon, was the major city shelled by mortars and recoilless rifles early today; a Vietnamese policeman was killed and 21 civilians and 17 allied soldiers were wounded.

The attack continued a pattern of the last few days in which the Viet Cong have reverted to long-distance attack with mortars and rockets after suffering heavy losses in two weeks of ground assaults.

Loss To Top $40,000 At Salem Bank

SALEM—Burglars who broke into the East Side drive-in office of the Farmers National Bank received a rich return for their investment.

J. R. Sanders, bank president, said today the thieves fled with $40,000 in cash from one vault, plus a still undetermined amount from the night depository vault. The loss is covered by insurance, he added.

Meanwhile, both city police and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation declined comment on their investigation into the burglary Monday night or early Tuesday.

The amount taken from bags dropped into the night depository vault by customers over the long holiday weekend cannot be determined until claims are filed by customers, Sanders said.

The locked night deposit bags presumably contained both cash and some checks, which would

'Hot' Issues To Be Faced By Congress

Mansfield Says It Has About 4 Weeks To Complete Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield says Congress has about four weeks to clean up legislation which includes such emotional issues as gun control, foreign aid and President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations.

Mansfield said Tuesday on the eve of Congress' return from a month-long recess that by October campaigning will probably lure away congressmen necessary for quorums in the chambers.

Mansfield said Congress could recess and return in November. But he added that another extra session could possibly affect only the Senate, which is confronted by President Johnson's nomination of Justice Abe Fortas as chief justice of the Supreme Court and by the nuclear nonproliferation treaty whose future is clouded by Soviet moves in East Europe.

Nothing major is scheduled for callup this week in either the House or the Senate. But committees will be busy, especially the Senate Judiciary which is considering the Fortas nomination.

Major unfinished business in both branches on which some action is likely includes a $72.7-billion measure for the Defense Department and probably a record low $1.96 billion foreign aid bill, control of interstate sales of shotguns and rifles, aid to education, extension of the basic farm programs, congressional reorganization and possibly some charges in election laws.

Record 688 Killed In Holiday Traffic

CHICAGO (AP) — A record 688 persons were killed in traffic accidents across the nation during the three-day Labor Day weekend.

The toll exceeded the previous Labor Day record of 636 set in 1966. It compared with 518 traffic deaths during a recent non-holiday weekend of the same length surveyed for comparison purposes by The Associated Press.

The National Safety Council had estimated that 575 to 675 persons might die during the holiday period, which ran from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Monday.

Action Due Saturday

Council To Seek Recreation Levy

City Council agreed Tuesday night to place a half - mill levy on the Nov. 5 general election ballot to raise approximately $20,000 to $22,000 a year to finance a citywide recreation program for persons of all ages.

The decision was made following a conference in the caucus room with a Jaycee committee which already has raised about $4,000 to hire a director and pay other expenses of the program for the last four months of 1968 if Council would set up $12,000 to carry on the work in 1969.

COUNCLMEN told the Jaycees that despite an informal promise made in May they now can see no way that the city can provide the $12,000 out of current revenue. The only alternative, they said, was to place the levy on the ballot. The program, meanwhile, remains in abeyance.

The councilmen conferred with Charles Lang, the principal spokesmen for the Jaycees, Joe Smith, Dick Frankel, Roger Babb and Jerry Woodburn.

Mayor George E. Willshaw suggested the levy to Council in mid - August as the only way the ctiy could finance a year - around recreation program. The Jaycees contemplate that the program will use all available city facilities, including Thompson Park, gymnasiums at various schools and three unused buildings which the Board of Education has agreed to convey to the city for community and recreation centers.

Council agreed to request Solicitor J. Michael Kapp to prepare a resolution asking the Election Board for a ballot place for the issue. Councilmen said the levy must be filed with the board before Sept. 15. The legislation probably will be acted upon at a special meeting Saturday at 10 a. m., which had been called earlier to hear a report from Planning Coordinator Don Eckert.

ECKERT is scheduled to give a detailed report Saturday on a trip which he made last week to Ann Arbor, Mich., Findlay and Canton to study elevated parking facilities. The administration and Council have been studying the possibility of erecting one or more concrete decks atop the Ceramic Parking Lot as a way of increasing auto space without the necessity for acquiring and tearing down more business property.

In other business, Council enacted a resolution authorizing the administration to call for bids on a five - year lease-rental agreement for new two-way radio equipment for the police department.

Councilman Robert W. Sample, reporting for the planning committee, said it decided that the city should eliminate

Not Only Cake Was 'Lit Up'

East Liverpool police thought they had a murder mystery on their hands this morning, but not for long.

A truck driver notified the department about 6 that he had seen a woman's body lying in weeds alongside a road near the Patterson Industries plant in East End.

Officers sped to the scene, along with a photographer who was to "get a picture of the corpse."

There was a woman's body in the weeds all right, but she was sitting up with a dazed expression on her face. The woman, about 50, was clothed only in a slip. She said she did not know where she was or how she got there.

Officers wrapped her in a blanket and took her to headquarters. She declined to reveal her name, but said she lives "back of Chester." The woman said she had gone out Tuesday night "to celebrate my birthday," but did not know how she wound up in the weed patch. She did not appear to be injured.

Police said she was suffering mostly from a mammoth hangover and the chill induced by the dew-soaked weeds.

HHH Eyeing Council And Cabinet Talks

Cutting Short His Week-Long Rest, Campaign Planning

WAVERLY, Minn. (AP) — Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey has cut short what was to have been a week-long rest and campaign planning stay to attend a meeting of the National Security Council in Washington.

The vice president leaves his lakefront home today for Minneapolis, some 40 miles away, and will fly in his chartered jet to the capital for the late afternoon meeting.

Humphrey also plans to attend a Cabinet meeting in Washington Thursday before returning here later that day. More strategy talks are on tap Friday and Saturday.

Press Secretary Norman Sherman described Humphrey's decision to attend the security council meeting as "a routine decision."

But it was felt here that the vice president wanted both to emphasize his role as one close to the policy level and to get any late information on the Eastern European and Vietnam situations.

Humphrey spent most of Tuesday in sessions here with his campaign manager, Lawrence F. O'Brien, who is doubling as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Both were accompanied by advisers, Humphrey by William Connell, his executive assistant, Ted Van Dyk, his top traveling strategist, and Dr. Edgar Berman, physician and cosfidante, and O'Brien by Joseph Napolitan, a long time aide who heads a Washington-based campaign service, and Ira Kapenstein, his personal aide.

CTA Request Given Council

Mayor George E. Willshaw relayed to Council Tuesday night a request filed with him last Wednesday that Negroes be hired for jobs at City Hall.

The mayor sent Council a lengthy letter detailing a meeting which he, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Treasurer Bert A. Dawson held with Ted Spencer of Center St. and Earl Taylor of Oakland Ave., the CTA representatives.

The mayor said the officials pointed out that there are no job vacancies at present in City Hall offices. He added that he explained that "this administration never has and never will discriminate in hiring because of race, color, creed or political activity."

Willshaw added that the CTA representatives asked jobs for Negroes in the Municipal Court staff, the mayor's and solicitor's offices, the income tax office and the water and sewage department offices. He added that he pointed out that hiring in the court is solely the responsibility of Judge Samuel M. Chertoff and that the Board of Public Utilities administers the water and sewage departments without interference from any other city agency.

Since CTA requested creation of additional jobs and appropriation of funds for the salaries, the mayor said, he felt the request should be referred to Council, whose responsibility it would be to take the action requested.

Willshaw's letter added that more Negroes are serving on city boards and commissions than ever before in history, "working together for the betterment of the city." He quoted a letter he received from a Negro citizen praising his administration for "taking gigantic steps to improve living conditions for all persons in the city."

Willshaw added it was his personal opinion the city could not appropriate money and create jobs when it has been forced to reduce personnel in some departments and the fire and police departments are working for salaries below those in comparable Ohio cities.

He said he transmitted the request to Council at Spencer's suggestion. Council received and filed the letter.

Chief Advises Checkup Now Of All Heating Equipment

Although cold weather still may be several weeks away, Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne today urged East Liverpool area residents to make their annual safety check of home heating equipment now.

"Competent inspection of furnaces, water heaters, incinerators and room heaters should not be put off," VanDyne said. "Plumbers and heating contractors normally are busiest when the first cold weather hits, and long dangerous delays could face those who wait to have their equipment inspected and necessary repairs made.

"Many home heating problems can be prevented by checking heating equipment for proper adjustment, proper ventilation, safe connections and proper operation of safety shutoff devices.

"Any heating appliance can get out of adjustment and should be checked annually. Vents carry away the products of combustion and, therefore, should be inspected regularly."

VanDyne suggested the following check-list to assure safe, efficient operation of home heating equipment:

1. — Be certain the heater is vented to a good chimney.

2. — If there is a cleanout opening with cap in the chimney under the vent pipe, be sure the vent is clear of debris.

3. — Be sure the chimney is clean. Blow smoke into the cleanout opening to make sure it is drawing.

4. — Be sure the vent pipe goes up, not down, from the heater to the chimney.

5. — Use a safety thimble to keep the pipe from going too far into the chimney. Seal around the pipe with cement or plaster where it enters the chimney.

6. — Don't use a cooking range for room heating.

7. — Have a qualified person install any heating equipment or make necessary adjustments.

Forms Available In Wool Contest

Junior Firemen Receive Praise In Lawrenceville

Praise was given to the newly-organized Junior Firemen during the meeting of the Lawrenceville Fire Department Tuesday night at the hall.

Robert Powers, trustee, presided in the absence of Okey Leasure Sr., president.

The junior group has been assisting in fighting brush fires, six being reported in a week.

It was announced that the junior group will not answer fire calls after 9 p. m. during the school term. It also was announced that an armed guard will be at the firemen's club, next to the station, because of recent robberies.

The meeting was interrupted for 45 minutes whlie firemen answered a call to a car fire on the Little Blue Rd., near Lawrenceville. Hookstown firemen also assisted.

Proof Of Freedom: Free Press

In a final move that sealed the lid on Czechoslovakia's bid for liberalization, editors and broadcasters have agreed to controls. The censorship setup was proposed by press representatives to prevent destruction of their facilities by Soviet-led troops.

In one last gesture of tribute to dying freedom, Joseph Smrkovsky, national assembly speaker, went on the air and related the extreme pressure on the Czech delegation during its stay in Moscow.

HE WAS BRUTALLY FRANK: the choice was capitulation or obliteration. He said the realization that "nobody could help us" affected their choice of a compromise.

Mr. Smrgovsky had high praise for President Ludvik Svoboda's conduct during the negotiations which he claimed "brought the Soviets to their senses."

The amazing radio performance by progressive Smrkovsky was hailed as a tremendous act of courage by the Czechs who now are worried about his safety.

The action by Mr. Smrkovsky—which undoubetdly placed his life in jeopardy—was one last attempt to communicate to the Czech citizenry why the delegation chose compromise in Moscow and to plead for support.

The Soviet Union was ready to take whatever measures necessary to squelch the growing freedom in its captive nation.

The Czech delegation chose to submit to Soviet bullying and agreed to end free press, permit stationing of Russian troops on Czechoslovak soil near West Germany and disband political groups.

The unspoken message that has run through all the reports from Czech liberal leaders is that the best hope is to wait quietly to fight another day.

It will be hard on the Czechs. They had free press and all it implies for seven and a half months. Now it is over.

NEWSPAPER and radio offices are heavily guarded by Soviet soldiers and police. The voice of the people has been stilled.

Where there is no freedom of the press there is no freedom. The Soviet Union knows it cannot withstand public criticism, therefore it murders the press.

But ose day uncensored newspapers will reappear and an unfettered radio voice will be heard and everyone will know the Czechs are free again. The world prays it will be soon.

The Next Move Is Hanoi's

American TV viewers were not the only ones watching the Republican and Democratic conventions with keen interest. The men in Hanoi and Moscow, or their agents, must have been equally fascinated by the goings-on.

For until the votes were finally in, our adversaries in Vietnam did not know whether they would have to deal with a hawk, a dove, a dovish hawk or a hawkish dove come next January.

As it turned out, they know now that, regardless of which candidate becomes the next president, it appears the policy will be pretty much the same. And it also looks, at this moment, as if that policy may not be much different than the present one.

HAD ONE OF THE REAL DOVES won the nomination, Hanoi could have expected a change in policy which, from the point of view of its leaders, undoubtedly would have redounded to their favor.

But with the candidates' Vietnam profiles having a twinish look, the North Vietnamese may come to the conclusion that they face only more of the same in the battlefield and at the bargaining table.

They may stall still longer, hoping that developments of the campaign will force one of the candidates to make more dovish promises, particularly if the national polls should indicate this would be popular with the voters.

For if one candidate should act in response to such polls, Hanoi might expect the other candidate to attempt to match him and thus increasingly dovish positions could emerge.

By the same token, however, if the polls should show that the voters want to see their government take a more hawkish attitude the candidates could react hawkishly, thus confronting Hanoi with an entirely different situation.

The North Vietsamese leaders and those in Moscow may decide to wait and see what develops on the campaign trails between now and November or they could decide that, in view of the two candidates' preachments to date, further waiting would not serve them.

IF THIS IS THEIR CONCLUSION, we can look either for a step-up in their war effort or a sudden willingness to move the peace talks toward some sort of accord.

Looking at it from the American point of view, in the aftermath of the conventions, Hanoi would do well to turn on their negotiatiors.

Bittersweet September

Bittersweet September is paying its annual visit to our area.

It is a favorite month in many hearts — for many reasons.

It serves as the gateway to autumn in its role of ushering in the transitional period. Its arrival signals the changing of the season guard.

Floating softly over browning fields and still-green forests, the flute solo of September spills its haunting notes — linked together by invisible strands of past experience.

September's song while endowed generously with melancholy, has about it an air of mystery and promise that tantilizes — beckoning with the irrestibility of an unexplored path.

Enticing, entreating, it fairly begs every adventurer to explore its potential fully. Its advance billing proclaims that no one will be disappointed, though some may be surprised.

September has a dual personality.

Indeed, the reward for proper use of its sun-filled days for last-fling activities or quiet musing is more than sufficient.

But, not unlike a mischievous child, the month's mood can change and bright days are crowded aside and replaced by gloom and drizzle.

A crisp morning may give way to sunshine with its welcome warmth or it may bow to grayness that mandates a sweater.

The chill in the air is a hint of things to come and things undone. It points the way toward winter and suggests urgently that preparations be put into motion to make ready.

The two faces of bittersweet September. Another month that proves that each of the calendar's 12 children are in part reality and in part a state of mind.

The Big Eye Is Black

Television coverage of the two national political conventions was something less than triumphant.

The viewing audience had more than its fill of discourteous reporters butting in, shoving microphones into the face of candidates and delegates and rattling on and on with a line of expertise that way overextended their qualifications.

THE BLACK EYE television gave itself with over-eager, abrasive reporter types and long, futile tracking of unfounded rumors that stayed dead despite arduous artificial respiration applied by a type of newsgathering method foreign to most journalists, unfortunately reflects on the press as a whole.

This is unfair. Most medium sized Midwestern newspapers have experienced newsmen who know the meaning of the word courtesy as well as they know their job.

There are exceptions, of course, and we admit the existence of distasteful elements within the newspaper field—especially on metropolitan news staffs. They are not representative of the newspaper field.

The major networks gave the impression to their viewing audiences that they are not satisfied to present the news but seek to manufacture it and to interpret every morsel—whether or not interpretation was in order.

The television industry is acutely aware that it is used much of the time to give wider exposure to a protest or an opinion and often to precipitate action that probably would not have taken place outside the presence of a camera.

THE INDUSTRY is struggling with the question of limiting coverage of people and events and remaining consistent with the freedom-of-expression principle.

It may take a while to arrive at a satisfactory guideline but there is nothing to keep network officials from giving their newsmen a lecture on common courtesy in newsgathering.

Clever, Those British

The Royal Air Force has come up with a novel way of averting plane crashes due to birds which either fly into or are sucked into the jet engines of its planes.

The RAF will scare the birds and thus remove them from the danger area.

After two years of research by the RAF, the Ministry of Defense has adopted a system of broadcasting bird distress calls at RAF stations in Great Britain and Germany.

The system uses characteristic distress calls of frightened birds which are broadcast from simple devices mounted on airfield fire engines. Some species fly toward the sound and then remain in the area until the call stops.

The RAF reports the system has been found to be 85 per cent effective.

Damage from birds striking aircraft has been estimated to cost the RAF as much as $2.4 million a year.

This clever method of calling birds from the flight paths of aircraft, if it is as good as the British say it is, should be used in the United States at both military bases and civilian airports.

It seems a relatively simple way of preventing further tragic loss of life due to bird-airplane collisions in mid-air.

Emergency Treatment

By Art Buchwald

After every political convention, doctors are called in to bind the wounds and strengthen the heart of the party. The house doctor for the Democratic party is Dr. Heinrich Applebaum, who arrived on Friday.

"Mein Gott," he said horrified. "What happened? I never saw such a mess."

"We tried to get you as soon as possible, Doctor."

"I didn't have the right credentials to get through the police lines."

"Hurry, Doctor, do something."

Art Buchwald

"Well, first we better get the tear gas out of here. The party can't breathe and the pulse is very bad."

"WE'VE TRIED to bring in fresh air doctor, but tear gas has now become a symbol of the party, and it's making us all cry."

"What happened to the left arm of the party? It's almost been severed."

"It occurred during the platform fight on Vietnam, doctor. We gave first aid, but we don't know if we can save it or not."

"It's badly bruised."

"Dr. McCarthy said the arm must go. What do you think, Dr. Applebaum"

"It doesn't look so good, but I don't see how the party can function without it. The right arm seems shaky. How did that happen"

"CREDENTIALS FIGHT. We lost a lot of blood. Dr. George Wallace took a look at it and said the right arm ought to come off, too."

"Has anyone thought to give the patient a transfusion"

"Yes, Doctor, but at this stage it's hard to find any donors. People think it's a hopeless case."

"Nothing's hopeless," Dr. Applebaum said angrily. "But I'm going to have to operate immediately."

"What are you going to do"

"FIRST WE HAVE to stitch up all the wounds that the party got here in Chicago. I'm going to have to do some plastic surgery on the face, and change the image. And I'm going to have to cut out as many bones of contention as I can.

Look, this Humprey rib has been leaning on this Johnson muscle and it can't grow that way. I don't want to remove the Johnson muscle altogether, but the less we see of it now, the better chance the patient will have of winning back its health."

Letter To The Editor

In reply to your Editorial Research Report Aug. 31 concerning the nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to Chief Justice of the U.S., I for one do not believe you have given anything like an honest report. In the Miranda vs. Arizona case, he voted with the majority which virtually stripped the police in dealing with criminals through immediate interrogation and the use of voluntary confessions in court under impossible restrictions.

In the U.S. vs. Robel case, the court denied the government the right to invoke its war power or concept of national defense to safeguard our defense plants against known Communists.

His ultra-extremist ties are again of public record. He was affiliated with the Washington Committee for Democratic Action, National Lawyers Guild, supported the Communist Infiltrated Institute of Pacific Relations, and endorsed the Southern Conference for Human Welfare three years after it had been declared to be a Communist Front organization by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

He has broken with constitutional safeguards of the separation of powers between the executive, legislative and judiciary by advising the President on Vietnam, etc. I would advise you to look at the Constitution and read the powers invested in Congress. It gives the Senate the mandate and duty to question anyone concerned with appointments to the Supreme Court and the ratification of treaties among others.

Justice Fortas will not answer questions before the Senate concerning past decisions he participated in, but will write booklets, pamphlets, etc. for public distribution of his views.

The Supreme Court over the last decade has annulled the loyalty oath, overruled Communist registration, allowed Communists to teach in our public schools and declared unconstitutional Bible reading and prayer in the classrooms. I for one wholeheartedly support the courageous stand taken by three Senators who are forced to filibuster to stop this distortion of the intent and principles of our Constitution.

Black Spectre

CHICAGO — A black spectre stalks Hubert Humphrey.

It is the angry spirit of the black caucuses woven into a new network of action cells spread by the thousands through the ghettos of the land.

Victor Riesel

It is grimly determined to rip from the Democratic Party sifficient votes to splinter it in all key industrial states so the Humphrey ticket will be smashed along with the party itself.

This past week in what was fortress Chicago, the inner sanctum professionals dismissed the spectre, mocked it and confused it with the stench of hard core hippies and noisome bombs.

But the black cells, sometimes with streaks of white in them, are no "sometimething." They are being woven into political parties by experienced, heavily financed organizers who will certainly peel hundreds of thousands of votes off Vice President Humphrey's totals in tight states.

They are no longer concerned with the battles of Lincoln Park. They are in the ghettos now. They are organizing clubs, developing precinct workers, publishing small newspapers, whipping up soul power, youth power, peace power, and the new anger-power, all aimed at driving the traditional old party bosses from their shoddy traditional old second-floor rear offices from which patronage and judgeships have been dispensed since the days a tiger meant Tammany Hall and not a tank.

AT THIS VERY MINUTE there are at least ten political parties in the making — each, for its own reason, determined to stomp on the standard bearer of the doleful rancher, Lyndon Johnson.

There are the Peace and Freedom Party, the Freedom and Peace Party the Coalition for an Independent Candidate, the Progressive Labor Party and the New Party led by the 34-year-old Marcus G. Raskin, a fellow in Washington's Institute for Policy Studies.

There is the Black Panther party, and amidst all this no one should overlook the Communist Party and the Troskyite Socialist Workers Party.

Some of these parties are new, some old. The older ones, such as the Communist Party, now reorganized to draw in some youth power of its own, have drawn scores of thousands of votes in recent elections in one state or another.

But it is burgeoning black outfits which can most damage the Humphrey ticket.

Look for a moment at the Freedom and Peace Party which plans to nominate the whilom comedian Dick Gregory for President.

"Freedom and Peace," with scores of little clubs in big cities, reports it will qualify for the ballot in six states: New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Utah, Minnesota and New Jersey.

NOW STUDY THE PEACE and Freedom Party, which working with the Black Panthers, a brutally violent street action operation.

The Panthers in New York's ghettos, for example, have 23 "Clubs" which revel in cop-fightings, thus attracting hundreds of young toughs. What matters if it doesn't qualify and cannot put the Panthers' minister of information, Eldridge Cleaver, on the ballot. They can frighten thousands away from the poling booths — voters who would support "The Party," meaning the Democrats, in normal times.

Most fascinating is Marcus Raskin's newwork. The young professor once on McGeorge Bundy's staff, has always been a Kennedy clan man. He expects his New party to get a line on ballots in at least 29 states and at most 35 states.

His drive dovetails with that of the Coalition for an Independent Candidate, which long ago told Sen. McCarthy it would nominate him in some 35 states whether he liked it or not. And if he removes his name, the Coalition's directors plan to replace him with some "peace" candidate, any candidate, so long as he splits the Democratic vote. The Coalition plans a major conference in Birmingham on Sept. 4 and then a national convention elsewhere late September. There will be no strewing of flowers, no futile songfests. This coalition means business.

So judge not these campaigns by the battles of Lincoln Park, the Hilton lobby or the rout of the bearded from the "greens' of Grant Park.

This is a new era. Black militancy, black caucuses, black candidates are remaking today's policies. Wait and see. This will be the weirdest election since ballots were invented.

Proof Of Freedom: Free Press

In a final move that sealed the lid on Czechoslovakia's bid for liberalization, editors and broadcasters have agreed to controls. The censorship setup was proposed by press representatives to prevent destruction of their facilities by Soviet-led troops.

In one last gesture of tribute to dying freedom, Joseph Smrkovsky, national assembly speaker, went on the air and related the extreme pressure on the Czech delegation during its stay in Moscow.

HE WAS BRUTALLY FRANK: the choice was capitulation or obliteration. He said the realization that "nobody could help us" affected their choice of a compromise.

Mr. Smrgovsky had high praise for President Ludvik Svoboda's conduct during the negotiations which he claimed "brought the Soviets to their senses."

The amazing radio performance by progressive Smrkovsky was hailed as a tremendous act of courage by the Czechs who now are worried about his safety.

The action by Mr. Smrkovsky—which undoubetdly placed his life in jeopardy—was one last attempt to communicate to the Czech citizenry why the delegation chose compromise in Moscow and to plead for support.

The Soviet Union was ready to take whatever measures necessary to squelch the growing freedom in its captive nation.

The Czech delegation chose to submit to Soviet bullying and agreed to end free press, permit stationing of Russian troops on Czechoslovak soil near West Germany and disband political groups.

The unspoken message that has run through all the reports from Czech liberal leaders is that the best hope is to wait quietly to fight another day.

It will be hard on the Czechs. They had free press and all it implies for seven and a half months. Now it is over.

NEWSPAPER and radio offices are heavily guarded by Soviet soldiers and police. The voice of the people has been stilled.

Where there is no freedom of the press there is no freedom. The Soviet Union knows it cannot withstand public criticism, therefore it murders the press.

But ose day uncensored newspapers will reappear and an unfettered radio voice will be heard and everyone will know the Czechs are free again. The world prays it will be soon.

The Next Move Is Hanoi's

American TV viewers were not the only ones watching the Republican and Democratic conventions with keen interest. The men in Hanoi and Moscow, or their agents, must have been equally fascinated by the goings-on.

For until the votes were finally in, our adversaries in Vietnam did not know whether they would have to deal with a hawk, a dove, a dovish hawk or a hawkish dove come next January.

As it turned out, they know now that, regardless of which candidate becomes the next president, it appears the policy will be pretty much the same. And it also looks, at this moment, as if that policy may not be much different than the present one.

HAD ONE OF THE REAL DOVES won the nomination, Hanoi could have expected a change in policy which, from the point of view of its leaders, undoubtedly would have redounded to their favor.

But with the candidates' Vietnam profiles having a twinish look, the North Vietnamese may come to the conclusion that they face only more of the same in the battlefield and at the bargaining table.

They may stall still longer, hoping that developments of the campaign will force one of the candidates to make more dovish promises, particularly if the national polls should indicate this would be popular with the voters.

For if one candidate should act in response to such polls, Hanoi might expect the other candidate to attempt to match him and thus increasingly dovish positions could emerge.

By the same token, however, if the polls should show that the voters want to see their government take a more hawkish attitude the candidates could react hawkishly, thus confronting Hanoi with an entirely different situation.

The North Vietsamese leaders and those in Moscow may decide to wait and see what develops on the campaign trails between now and November or they could decide that, in view of the two candidates' preachments to date, further waiting would not serve them.

IF THIS IS THEIR CONCLUSION, we can look either for a step-up in their war effort or a sudden willingness to move the peace talks toward some sort of accord.

Looking at it from the American point of view, in the aftermath of the conventions, Hanoi would do well to turn on their negotiatiors.

Bittersweet September

Bittersweet September is paying its annual visit to our area.

It is a favorite month in many hearts — for many reasons.

It serves as the gateway to autumn in its role of ushering in the transitional period. Its arrival signals the changing of the season guard.

Floating softly over browning fields and still-green forests, the flute solo of September spills its haunting notes — linked together by invisible strands of past experience.

September's song while endowed generously with melancholy, has about it an air of mystery and promise that tantilizes — beckoning with the irrestibility of an unexplored path.

Enticing, entreating, it fairly begs every adventurer to explore its potential fully. Its advance billing proclaims that no one will be disappointed, though some may be surprised.

September has a dual personality.

Indeed, the reward for proper use of its sun-filled days for last-fling activities or quiet musing is more than sufficient.

But, not unlike a mischievous child, the month's mood can change and bright days are crowded aside and replaced by gloom and drizzle.

A crisp morning may give way to sunshine with its welcome warmth or it may bow to grayness that mandates a sweater.

The chill in the air is a hint of things to come and things undone. It points the way toward winter and suggests urgently that preparations be put into motion to make ready.

Harriman Says Viet Cong Play Only Minor Role

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman said today that North Vietnamese troops are doing almost all the fighting in South Vietnam and the Viet Cong is playing a minor role.

The veteran American diplomat, speaking to newsmen as he went into the 20th session of the Paris peace talks with North Vietnamese envoy Xuan Thuy, demanded that Hanoi quit fighting at once.

And he called on the North Vietnamese once again to say precisely what they will do if American bombing of the North is stopped.

Council

the post of one full - time "Meter Maid" and one substitute. Legislation was before Council in August to eliminate two of the full - time parking attendants as an economy move, but it was tabled pending the study.

Council gave the finance committee a letter from Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger reporting that the overtime pay allocation for the police department has been overdrawn by $492. He said the account was overdrawn $111.20 on the Aug. 15 payroll and $380.80 on the Aug 31 payroll. He said he will be unable to pay any more overtime to police until additional money is appropriated.

Harold Wilson and George Hackathorne, both of Garfield St., appeared before Council with a request for opening of John St. between Sutton Alley and Garfield St. They also complained that parking on a section of Lincoln Ave. interferes with traffic. The Council street committee promised to investigate tonight at 6.

COUNCIL also received a renewed complain on storm water and septic tank effluent allegedly flowing in an open ditech across private property on Sunnyside Ave. Councilmen replied that current plans to install a sanitary sewer in the area should lead to correction of the condition. If all homes in the area are required to connect with the sewer, the problem of septic tank overflow should be corrected, they said.

Councilman Edward Massey presented a petition with 23 signatures complaining that an apartment at 235 W. Church Ln. is an "eyesore and is infested with bedbugs, roaches and rats." The petition requested that the property be decard a public nuisance and closed to occupancy and razed. The petition did not name the property owner. Massey said copies of the petition also were sent to Eckert, Marvin Wooley, building and zoning inspector, and the Health Department.

Massey said he has heard of other properties "in the vicinity of 2nd St. that are in the same condition and I intend to get the locations and bring them to the attention of the proper auhorities.'

Councilman John Wilson asked legislation offically authorizing a stop sign at the junction of Ravine St. and Thompson Ave. He said such a sign has been in place for some time, but it is not authorized by the City Code.

be of no value to the thieves, he explained.

Burglars entered the brick building, in which no alarm system has been installed, by cutting a hole in the roof and then using a ladder to get inside.

Police said a cutting torch was used to burn a large rectangular hole in the night depository vault and a smaller circular hole in the cash vault.

Play Items OK'd In Shippingport

SHIPPINGPORT — Council Tuesday night voted to purchase additional athletic equipment for use by borough children at the new playground.

Two basketball bankboards have been installed. Volleyball equipment will be secured. Bills totaling $110 were paid.

Lisbon Club To Meet

LISBON — Foster Shattuck of Lisbon will give an illustrated talk on "Historical Points of Interest" for the Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday noon in the VFW McKinley Room.

U. S. congressmen, up until the year of 1814, were paid only $6 a day.

Trio Escapes In Boat After Bank Holdup

NEW YORK (AP) — Using a speedboat called Cheetah, three gunmen eluded a small armada of police boats and aircraft on Long Island Sound Tuesday after taking possibly as much as $70,000 from a City Island bank, police said.

The unusual getaway vehicle was found abandoned almost five hours later but police did capture a man they said had helped plan the spectacular robbery.

Police said that two armed men invaded the bank, about 1 p.m., and one forced bank personnel and customers to lie on the floor while the other cleaned from $40,000 to $70,000 from the tellers' drawers.

A spokesman for the Manufacturers' Hanover Trust Co. branch said the men disarmed a guard but a teller, seeing the rifle carried by one robber, activated the alarm system and movie cameras.

Bank officials put the amount taken at $30,000 pending an audit.

The two men, one wearing a ski mask and the other carrying a bolt action shotgun, fled from the bank to the waiting outboard motorboat in yellw panel truck which was reported stolen last month.

Lisbon's Schools Start New Term With 1,650 Pupils

LISBON — The three local schools opened this morning with an enrollment of 1,650, compared with 1,624 on the first day last year.

McKinley School enrolled 534 boys and girls, kindergarten through sixth grade, compared with 513 last September.

Lincoln School (kindergarten-grade 8) reported 649 students, one more than the first day last year.

David Anderson High School had 467 students, four more than at opening last year. The high school expected 479.

Extra-curricular activities will begin this weekend. There will be a bonfire rally Thursday night for the football season opener here Friday night with Southern Local High School.

Students who ordered the 1968 "Olympian" yearbook may pick them up from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Saturday in the gymnasium lobby. The Olympian staff will sponsor an "autograph dance" at the same time in the gym and invites all freshmen and 1968 graduates. Music will be by "the Glass Menangerie."

Daily dismissal at the high school and McKinley and Lincoln buildings will be 15 minutes earlier this year.

Wellsville Man Fined, Sentenced

A Wellsville motorist was fined $200 and sentenced to three days in jail as the result of a traffic mishap in Wellsville Monday.

Eugene Mercer of 423 14th St. was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol after his car was involved in an accident with an auto driven by James R. Bell of 1607 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville. The collision occurred on 11th St.

On Monday at 7 p.m., Alvin R. Jarvis of 1812 Clark Ave. and Thomas P. Broderick of 1030 Main St. were involved in an accident on Main St. a short distance from the corner of 4th and Main.

Jarvis, driving a 1960 sedan, told police that Frank A. Smith of Jewett, driving a 1961 sedan, stopped and he and Broderick, driving a 1964 sedan, were unable to stop. There were no citations.

Robert Williams of Wellsville was fined $25 and costs Saturday in Mayor Daugherty's court for failure to have his vehicle under control as the result of an earlier accident.

Motion To Seek Charges Dropped In King Slaying

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A motion seeking dismissal of murder charges against James Earl Ray, the man accused of the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will be argued in Memphis Friday, but the accused will not be present.

Ray's defense attorney, Arthur Hanes Sr., of Birmingham, said Tuesday his client's presence at the hearing for preliminary motions is not required.

Several motions are expected to be filed in the case, including one seeking to have the murder indictment quashed on grounds that widespread publicity would preclude Ray's receiving a fair trial in the United States.

Hanes has indicated that he will also argue for a motion allowing him access to all prosecution witnesses and all items of physical evidence.

The Shelby County attorney general, Phil M. Canale, has said he will provide the names and addresses of witnesses, some of whom are in protective custody, but he has stated that Hanes would not be allowed to view all items of evidence.

Hanes and his son and co-counsel, Arthur Hanes Jr., will fly to Memphis Thursday night from Birmingham.

Motorist Given Fine, Jail Term

LISBON — Edward E. Callen Jr., 50, of Summitville was fined $150 and costs and was sentenced to three days in village jail Tuesday night by Mayor Clyde B. Pike for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The mayor gave Callen permission to serve the jail time on weekends. Local police arrested Callen last Saturday.

Two other drivers charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol were granted continuances until Sept. 10.

They are Ray D. Rudibaugh, 26, of Lisbon RD 3, cited Aug. 17, and George Perrault III, 22, of the Salem - Damascus Rd., arrested early Tuesday morning. Police also charged Perrault with speeding, reckless operation and failure to obey a policeman's signal.

The defendant, on advice of counsel, pleaded not guilty to all four charges last night.

Iwo Jima was invaded by a U.S. joint expeditionary force Feb. 19, 1945.

The giant pandas are native to western China and Tibet.

Driver Fined After Mishap

A 21-year-old driver whose auto went off Route 7 near Wellsville early Saturday morning was fined $15 and costs today by Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp on a charge of driving at speeds in excess of those indicated by road and weather conditions.

John G. Mobley of 25th St. Heights, Wellsville, was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Saturday at 3:35 a. m. after the mishap near Silvers Switch. The patrol said his auto, "engaged in an impromptu acceleration contest," went onto the medial divider and traveled along it for 180 feet. The car then went across the southbound lanes for 111 feet and off the left side of the highway an additional 156 feet, the patrol said.

Michael Watson, 22, of Radio Heights was fined $5 and costs on a charge of riding a motorcycle without wearing eye protection. William R. Copestick, 18, of 532 Maple St., his passenger, was fined a similar amount on a charge of not wearing a protective helmet or eye shield. The two were cited by the patrol Friday at 6 p. m. on Route 7.

Patrick E. Smith, 33, of 240 Thompson Ave., whose auto was involved in a minor mishap in Pleasant Alley Tuesday afternoon, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail when he pleaded "no contest" on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Walter J. Potts, 48, of 1498 Mick Rd., Wellsville, whose auto struck another from the rear Tuesday afternoon on W. 8th St., was fined $25 and costs on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Rogers Plans Cage Court At Playground

ROGERS — Council discussed construction of a basketball court at the playground during a meeting Tuesday night.

Councilmen Kenneth Macall and Donald Hays were asked by Mayor Glenn Rhodes to check on the cost of 2,200 square feet of blacktop material.

Council authorized a wage increase to $1.40 an hour for youths who do labor work for the village. They had been getting $1.15. The hike was granted to meet state requirements.

Council also authorized the purchase of five traffic arrest ticket books for Police Chief Sidney Cowan. The new books will comply with state standards.

It was reported a reconditioned control had been purchased and erected for the traffic lights at the intersection of Routes 7 and 154 in the village square. One was damaged several months ago in an accident.

Cowan and Rhodes reported $110 collected in fines and bond forfeitures. Bills totaling 919 were ordered paid.

The next meeting will be Oct. 7 at 7 p. m. at the fire station.

Club Banners 'Traded' By Rotary, Guest

An exchange of Rotary banners marked the Tuesday noon luncheon in the Travelers Hotel.

Yuko Takebayashi, an exchange student from Japan who will be here for a year, was presented a banner from the local club by President Carl Pelini and she, in turn, presented the club with the banners of three Rotary groups in her home city of Kagoshima.

Yuko, a guest at the luncheon, again pointed out how happy she is to be here.

Jack Roberts is program chairman for September.

The Rotarians toured the new schools here last evening.

Pelini announced that Leslie Simmen, who left for Brazil Friday, was 150 miles from Rio de Janeiro. She originally was scheduled to go to Sweden, but when a sponsoring family was not found was asked to go to Australia instead. She declined and was placed on a standby basis. Then came the last-minute invitation to Brazil.

The National Guard originated with the Old North Regiment of the colonial militia in Massachusetts in 1636.

August Report Was A 'Hot' One

The hot weather from Aug. 19-24, including 95-degree temperatures, broke a record set in 1953, Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, reports in his monthly summary.

The "coldest day in August since 1892" occurred on the 28th when the temperature dropped to 34 degrees.

The average temperature for August is 68.5 degrees. This year it averaged 70 degrees. Seven days, six of which came in a row, had temperatures of 90 and above, Copeland said.

Short on rainfall by almost half the normal amount (3.37 inches), the past month brought only 1.46 inches. The farmer was hurt, Copeland said, providing no pasture for livestock.

There were 18 clear, seven partly cloudy and six cloudy days, with 70 per cent sunshine, 10 per cent more than normal.

Mental Health Group Will Meet Thursday

"The Emotional - Legal Problem Syndrome" will be discussed by Atty. and Mrs. Dominic J. Potts of Steubenville during the meeting of the Hancock - Brooke County Mental Health Society Thursday at 8 p. m. in the doctors' dining room at Weirton General Hospital.

Mrs. Potts is a psychiatric social worker for the Jefferson County Guidance Center.

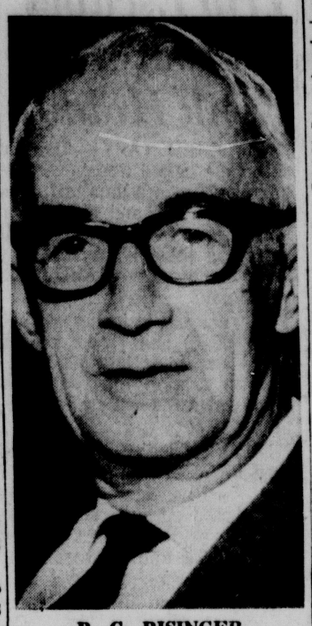

Mrs. Audrey Litman, president, will conduct the meeting and Mrs John L. Sullivan will be program chairman.

Beaver Local Begins Term

Beaver Local School District opened classes today with an increase in enrollment over last year of 148 students, Supt. Roy Cashdollar announced.

The enrollment was listed at 2,768, compared with 2,620 in September 1967.

The individual school attendance today, with last year's figures in parentheses, was: Calcutta 594 (550), high school 602 (569), Public School 965 (942), Rogers 238 (222), West Point 218 (197) and Elkton 151 (140).

Cashdollar said the high school is particularly crowded, with classes being held on the stage, in the music room and wrestling room. He said the language laboratory has been dismantled and stored to provide space for a class of 35 in that room.

Study halls will be held every period of the day, ranging from 127 students in the smallest to 211 in the largest.

The residents of the district will vote Tuesday in a special election on a proposed $485,000 bond issue to provide for additional classrooms at the high school, West Point, Calcutta and Public Schools.

Cashdollar said some bus schedules will have to be revised to meet the changed enrollment, especially the Calcutta to high school route.

Kadettes Take Part In Mingo Celebration

The Vi - Lar Kadettes baton and drum corps was among units participating in the third annual community day Saturday at Mingo Junction.

The Kadettes will march here Thursday night during the parade for the Potters' football team. It will be their first East Liverpool appearance since winning the state title June 29 at Cincinnati.

"Perhaps the most beautiful movie in history."—Brendan Gill, The New Yorker. "Exquisite is only the first word that surges in my mind as an appropriate description of this exceptional film. Its color is absolutely gorgeous. The use of music and, equally eloquent, of silences and sounds is beyond verbal description. The performances are perfect—that is the only word."—Bosley Crowther, New York Times. "May well be the most beautiful film ever made."—Newsweek.

Gets $10,347 Grant

BEAVER — The Beaver County Industrial Development Agency has been awarded a $10,347 assitance grant, according to the Pennsylvania Commerce Department. The grant, one of 48 announced by the department, was awarded on a matching fund basis.

Beaver Local Begins Term

Beaver Local School District opened classes today with an increase in enrollment over last year of 148 students, Supt. Roy Cashdollar announced.

The enrollment was listed at 2,768, compared with 2,620 in September 1967.

The individual school attendance today, with last year's figures in parentheses, was: Calcutta 594 (550), high school 602 (569), Public School 965 (942), Rogers 238 (222), West Point 218 (197) and Elkton 151 (140).

Cashdollar said the high school is particularly crowded, with classes being held on the stage, in the music room and wrestling room. He said the language laboratory has been dismantled and stored to provide space for a class of 35 in that room.

Study halls will be held every period of the day, ranging from 127 students in the smallest to 211 in the largest.

The residents of the district will vote Tuesday in a special election on a proposed $485,000 bond issue to provide for additional classrooms at the high school, West Point, Calcutta and Public Schools.

Cashdollar said some bus schedules will have to be revised to meet the changed enrollment, especially the Calcutta to high school route.

Man Nabbed In Rail Yards

An East Liverpool man, wanted for misuse of a stolen Sohio credit card, was apprehended in the Penn Central yards at Midland Tuesday night.

Willard Payne, 27, of 8 Thompson Pl. was found hiding in an ore car about 10:30 p. m. by Police Chief Vincent D'Itri and other officers, including Patrolmen Sam Ratkovich, Charles Sallis and William Monac.

Called to assist with the search were Sgt. Leo LeFebvre of Ohioville and Capt. Jack Lutton, chief of plant protection at the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Corp.

Payne had been seen about 9 by Ratkovich while cruising in the 5th St. area. When approached, Payne ran toward the railroad yard.

Ratkovich radioed to Sallis for assistance. They were joined by the others. They searched each boxcar until Payne was located.

Payne was arraigned before Squire Stephen Germusa of Midland at 11:30 on charges of cheating by fraudulent pretense. He is being held at Midland jail.

Payne allegedly used a stolen credit card to purchase five auto tires at the Midland service station on Midland Ave. at a cost of about $200. The credit card had been reported stolen July 10 and stations in the area were notified.

Payne admitted using the card, stating he purchased 14 tires at various stations in the area. He said the five from Midland were installed on his car, which he told police is at Chester.

Other authorities in the area have been asked check stations in their areas.

Payne was released May 3 from prison at Lewisburg, Pa., police said. He had been serving time on interstate larceny of a stolen vehicle.

His hearing has been set for Saturday at 3 p. m.

Gessford Takes Banking Course

Robert L. Gessford, manager of the St. Clair Plaza branch of the First National Bank, has just completed a two-week residence session of the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

Student bankers from 38 states, Puerto Rico and Honduras attended the classes.

The school, sponsored by the Central States Conference consisting of the bankers' associations of 16 states, requires attendance for two weeks each year for three years for graduation.

A total of 394 seniors received diplomas at this year's graduation exercises.

Council OK's Well Project At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Council authorized drilling of a new well for the water system and agreed to purchase a street sweeper Tuesday night when a report was given on anticipated epxenditures for the municipal power plant.

Action calling for advertising of bids for the drilling followed complaints in recent months about the poor taste of water in the east and northern sections of the community.

Council also authorized the purchase of a used street sweeper for $3,800 to replace the present machine.

A review of the power plant needs was given by Steve Kuehner of the Floyd G. Brown Associates of Marion, city consulting engineers.

He reported $91,000 has been spent this year — $50,000 for boiler repairs and $41,000 for a standby Diesel unit.

He recommended spending $97,000 next year for transformer additions, coal - handling equipment at the plant and an ash silo. For 1970, he suggested installation of an auxiliary bank of transformer and other distribution system improvements, for a total expenditure of $75,000.

The Penn Central company advised city officials two daily passengers trains serving the city will not be discontinued for at least nine months. The city has opposed ending the runs of Trains 50 and 53.

Red Cross Steps Up Food Lift To Besieged Biafra

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Red Cross begins an accelerated airlift of food and medicine into besieged Biafra Thursday following an agreement with the Nigerian government permitting daytime flights for a 10-day period.

Meanwhile, Lagos said its troops were battling for control of two of the rebels' three remaining towns.

The federal Ministry of Information announced the airlift agreement with the International Red Cross Committee Tuesday. Up to now, the Lagos government said it would shoot down any planes flying into secessionist Biafra, claiming the mercy flights were carrying arms into the breakaway republic.

The Red Cross had announced Monday that it would begin daytime mercy flights despite the Nigerian blockade. The Red Cross and other private groups have been flying emergency supplies to two Biafran airstrips at night, but the amount of food they have been able to deliver is negligible compared to the needs of the millions threatened wtih starvation.

Columbus Schools Set Free Lunch Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Columbus school system's free hot lunch program for needy inner-city children will be conducted this year, as planned, Supt. Harold Eibling announced Tuesday.

Earlier Tuesday it was reported that the program was being postponed indefinitely because Franklin County Welfare Department did not have the funds to provide its $40,000 contribution to keep the program alive through December.

But Eibling said the difference would be paid out of Aid to Dependent Children funds. And County Commissioner Glenn L. Myers, who said the board was not aware of the welfare department's predicament, promised that the county would come up with its share of the money.

Mishap Injures Ex-Local Woman Near Coshocton

A former East Liverpool woman, mother-in-law of Solicitor J. Michael Kapp, was injured in a traffic mishap Tuesday afternoon at 3:40 on State Route 16 near Coshocton.

Mrs. James N. Howes of Casey, Ill., formerly of Dresden Ave., was hospitalized after a collision between a car driven by her father-in-law, James C. Howes of Westfield, Ill., and a tractor-trailer operated by Richard F. Daniels, 38, of St. Simons Island, Ga.

Mrs. Howes and her father-in-law both were taken to Coshocton County Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Howes underwent surgery for a broken leg and facial injuries.

Coshocton County deputies said the tractor - trailer was northbound and Howes was southbound when the auto crossed the center line and hit the rig. Mrs. Howes is the mother of the former Miss Betty Stiteler, to whom the solicitor was married recently.

The Aurora Borealis, also called the Northern Lights, is a broad display of rather faint light in the northern skies at night.

Guess To Retire As House Clerk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Carl Guess, clerk of the Ohio House of Representatives for most of the last 22 years, has announced he will retire at the end of the year.

The Carroll County native has been confined to a wheel chair recently by a hip ailment.

Red Cross Steps Up Food Lift To Besieged Biafra

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Red Cross begins an accelerated airlift of food and medicine into besieged Biafra Thursday following an agreement with the Nigerian government permitting daytime flights for a 10-day period.

Meanwhile, Lagos said its troops were battling for control of two of the rebels' three remaining towns.

The federal Ministry of Information announced the airlift agreement with the International Red Cross Committee Tuesday. Up to now, the Lagos government said it would shoot down any planes flying into secessionist Biafra, claiming the mercy flights were carrying arms into the breakaway republic.

The Red Cross had announced Monday that it would begin daytime mercy flights despite the Nigerian blockade. The Red Cross and other private groups have been flying emergency supplies to two Biafran airstrips at night, but the amount of food they have been able to deliver is negligible compared to the needs of the millions threatened wtih starvation.

Councilmen OK One-Man Radar For Wellsville

Wellsville Council approved the purchase of one-man control radar equipment, passed an ordinance establishing a $10-a-month salary increase for the sanitation department clerk and heard committee reports when it met Tuesday night.

An ordinance authorizing Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, to advertise for bids for the system to control speeding was passed on third reading, with Robert Taggart and J. Brad Phillips casting no votes. Russell Keefer, Paul Todd, Glen Mathess, Nunzio Lombardozzi and Jack Call voted yes.

TODD explained his change in thinking from two previous meetings was based on several meetings with the mayor of Toronto and police had disclosed that their one-man radar "was quite an asset to the city in fines and slowing speeding."

The legislation setting the salary of Mrs. Helen Secrist, sanitation clerk, at $290 a month was adopted unanimously under suspension of rules.

The increase, retroactive to May, was voted due to the department's additional duty of handling parking meter fees.

Harold Sneddon, manager of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office in East Liverpool, announced that work will begin soon on a $30,730 pipeline replacement project in downtown Wellsville.

He said about a half-mile of new pipeline will be laid along both sides of Main St. (State Route 7) between 9th and 6th.

The Bernard Pipeline Co. of Barberton will make the replacement for the Ohio Valley Gas Co. Sneddon explained that the line will be laid along both sides of the street near the curb in order to maintain traffic during construction. The present line lies beneath the street in a traffic lane. Work is expected to be completed early in November.

COUNCIL instructed Todd, refuse chairman, to check with Baldasare concerning the condemning of the city's fill land after a report that the County Health Department is in the process of condemning it. Mathess, a member of the committee, explained that the state is going to license certain land fills in the county that come within specifications. Phillips, also a member of the committee, commented that a man tearing houses down on 25th St. is hauling the old lumber of the refuse fill and that the dump has been on fire.

Upon a motion by Keefer, property committee chairman, Council instructed Solicitor William Bush to prepare legislation to advertise for bids to lease the city's plot of land on the old waterworks site, near the flood wall in the east end. Earlier in the meeting, the owner of the Ace Trucking firm presented a request to lease the land, on which he wants to erect a 10,000 - square - foot warehouse before cold weather.

In a street and light committee report by Lombardozzi, chairman, permission was granted Ray Piatt of 1115 Main St. to cut additional curb for a double garage under the supervision of Baldasare. Permission also was given to erect a "No Parking In Driveway" sign at a home on 13th St. between Center and Clover Sts. The property owner will pay for the sign.

Phillips, also reporting for the street and light committee, presented requests of two Danbury Ave. residents — Mrs. Paul Wilson and Mrs. McNicol — for increased illumination in one light and a new light.

IN OTHER committee reports, Mathess, finance chairman, recommended reconsidering the request of John Jarvis, an extra fireman, at the Aug. 20 meeting for an increase in the hourly rate for his group, after the first of the year, since there are no funds available now for a raise. He stated that the extra firemen had asked for an hourly salary increase from $1.67 to $2 for a full day.

Mathess informed Council that Mayor William Daugherty had asked for a uniform traffic ticket, calling the present one outmoded. He commented that with Council's permission he would work with the mayor in drawing up a suitable ticket. A discussion was held on the collection of back traffic fines.

Council agreed that removal or retention of the barricade to the Black Acres Estate being developed by Delmar T. O'Hara would be contingent on the opinion of the city solicitor. O'Hara has asked removal of the barricade placed by Baldasare on an access leading from the Hammond Park Rd. Mrs. Helen Welch, chairman of the Hammond Park Commission, had been instrumental in placing of the barricade.

PHILLIPS, chairman, reported that the rules, claims and ordinance committee recommended that the city not pay an $89.28 claim of a motorist for a new fender for her car. It was the committee's opinion that negligence on the motorist's part resulted in the scratched fender when she bumped into a rail against a cement culvert at 20th St.

The mayor's report of $1,450.70 in fines and other violations for August was accepted. The Board of Elections acknowledged receipt of an ordinance to place a 2-mill levy for a fire truck on the Nov. 5 ballot.

Wayne Rose, president, announced that the ordinance providing for a gas rate increase passed Aug. 20 by Council had been returned signed by the mayor.

Lombardozzi served as clerk in the absence of Andrew J. Lynn. Opening prayer was given by Keefer.

New Bridge Opened In West Township

LISBON — Replacement of a bridge on the southern end of Myers Rd., one mile east of Lynchburg in West Township has been completed and the road is open for traffic, according to John Ursu, Columbiana County Engineer.

The new bridge, between Route 30 and the Penn - Central Railroad tracks to the south, is of steel - beam construction with a wooden deck. Ursu said it is four feet wider than the old steel - truss bridge which had a concrete deck.

Ursu said the replacement is the 23rd since he became engineer in 1965. The work was done by the County Highway Department.

Way Cleared For Firm To Recover Supplies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court has cleared the way for the Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Corp. and Dana Corp. of Toledo to recover equipment and parts from a strike-bound plant here.

Judge John L. Angelotta Tuesday denied a court order brought by United Auto Workers Local 217 to halt repossession by the two firms in their United Screw & Bolt Corp.

Court Leaves Problem To Sheriff, Jennings

NEW CUMBERLAND — Sheriff Joseph Rodak and Clayton Jennings Jr. met with the Hancock County Court of Commissioners Tuesday to discuss Jennings' grievances over his dismissal as a Hancock deputy.

Rodak explained to Jennings that he had no personal grudge against him, but that he would have been overdrawn in his budget if he had retained him.

At this point, the commissioners approached Floyd Tarr, legal council for the court, and that it was decided that this was a problem between the sheriff and Jennings and that the court had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Norman D. Ferrari Jr., representing the Farm Committee of the Children's Home Board, was present to discuss the possibility of making the farm self-supporting. He presented plans compiled by Oliver Johnson, extension agent, and a representative from the Department of Agriculture at West Virginia University.

The plans showed exactly how many crops and animals would be needed to furnish enough food for each child per year. The possibility of building a new barn for the farm was discussed.

William Cipoletti of the Monongahela Power Co. presented a flood lighting proposal for the children's home. Commissioner William Graham thought the home should have suburban lighting instead of flood lighting. Another proposal is expected from the power company in a few days.

A motion was approved to advertise for two new trucks—one for the cemetery and the other for the dog warden.

Two Judges Uninjured In Road Mishap

A traffic accident Tuesday morning near Carrollton turned back two East Liverppol jurists on their way to a judicial conference in Columbus.

Judges Raymond S. Buzzard of Columbiana County Common Pleas Court, his wife and Judge Samuel Chertoff of Municipal Court escaped injury in the mishap about 8:30 on Route 39 four miles east of Carrollton.

Judge Buzzard said he was driving "not over 40 miles-an-hour, following another car downhill. It had just started to rain," he said. The road curved sharply to the right at the bottom of the hill and both cars had to stop for a stopped school bus in the opposite lane, he explained.

The judge said his brakes took hold for an instant, then the car began to slide and hit the rear of the car ahead. He said his sedan was almost stopped before the impact. The woman driving the other car complained of her neck, the judge said.

He had his car towed to a Carrollton garage for repairs. Judge and Mrs. Buzzard and Judge Chertoff returned home. Judge Chertoff flew to Columbus yesterday afternoon with George A. Aronson, East Liverpool attorney. Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem also flew to Columbus yesterday to represent Common Pleas court at the meeting, which was called by the State Supreme Court to discuss the judicial amendment to the constitution.

Irondale Driver Hurt In Mishap

An Irondale motorist was hospitalized with injuries suffered in an accident Tuesday morning on Jefferson Couny Rd. 60 about six miles north of Richmond.

The Wintersville Highway Patrol said Walter N. Sutton, 50, of Irondale RD 1 was headed south in his pickup truck when he drove off the right berm and rammed a tree and embankment.

Sutton told officers he crested a hill on a curve and observed an oncoming vehicle.

He was admitted to St. John's Hospital, Steubenville, with nose injuries and was to be released today.

Judge Slates Hearing For Case On Property

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp today set a hearing Tuesday morning at 9 for Warren Willison of the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd., accused of failure to comply with an order of a deputy state fire marshal.

The affidavit signed by Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne alleges Willison, as "administrator" of homes on Dresden Ave. and Fairview St., failed to comply with an order to raze or repair the structures within 30 days. The affidavit was signed July 18.

Willison asked time to obtain counsel. The court then entered a not guilty plea for him and released him on his own recognizance.

Boy Suffers Leg Fracture

An East Liverpool boy was listed in "satisfactory" condition this morning at City Hospital following an accidnt on Route 267, about a mile north of the city limits at 2:15 Tuesday afternoon.

John N. Muschweck III, son of Mr. and Mrs John N. Muschweck Jr. of Simmons Ave., was going for the mail in the family mailbox when he apparently turned and walked into an auto driven by Robert L. Byrne of LaCroft, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said. Byrne was to make a statement to the patrol this afternoon.

Muschweck suffered a fractured left leg.

A stone thrown by a tractor-trailer hit a 1967 coupe operated by Joseph Lee Riddle, 21, of 115 Sarah St., Weirton, on Route 30, approximately three miles east of Lisbon at 6:28 Tuesday evening. The truck did not stop. Riddle was not injured, the patrol reported.

New Cumberland Home Destroyed In Tuesday Fire

NEW CUMBERLAND — A dwelling on Commerce St. was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon.

The owner of the house, William Ware, and his family of six escaped without injury. Firemen were not able to determine the cause of the blaze, which apparently broke out in the basement.

Fire Chief Paul Wigner said the department received the call at 3:45 p. m. Upon arrival, firemen found almost half of the house engulfed in flames.

Two city fire trucks and a standby truck from New Manchester were at the site along with 10 firemen, who fought the blaze until approximately 6:15.

Ohio Due $226,634 Riot-Control Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio will receive $226,634 in federal funds for prevention and control of riots, the Justice Department announced Tuesday. The funds are available under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968.

The funds will be distributed to the Ohio Highway Patrol and the state's eight largest cities. The state and cities must provide 25 per cent matching funds.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Remember counting the number of cars in a passing freight train and losing count even before mid - passage? Sympathizing with this frustrated desire for knowledge, The World Almanac notes that in 1967 freight trains operated by major railroads averaged 70.5 cars and a caboose, an increase of 22.0 cars over freight trains in 1929. An average of 41.5 cars were loaded and 29 mere empty.

2 Of 4 Who Fled From W.Va. Pen Are Recaptured

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — Two of four fugitives from the West Virginia Penitentiary have been recaptured.

State Police took into custody Tuesday night Ronald Reddin and Isaac Snuffer, who walked away from a work detail Monday evening at nearby Camp Fairchance.

Authorities said the two men were caught near the prison.

Reddin, 29, was serving a 1-10 year term from Monroe County for forgery, while Snuffer, 25, was serving a 1-10 year sentence from Raleigh County for breaking and entering.

Two other prisoners who escaped from the work camp Tuesday morning remained at large.

They were Thomas L. Tyree, 26, serving a 1-10 year term for breaking and entering from Raleigh County; and James C. Kelly, 27, serving 1-10 years for breaking and entering from Harrison County.

Stokes Says He Suggested Bayh Or Alioto As VP

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes said Tuesday he was consulted on the choice of the Democratic party's vice presidential nominee and suggested either Sen. Birch E. Bayh of Indiana or San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto.

2 Fined, Jailed In Driving Cases

LISBON — Judge J. L. MacDonald found two drivers guilty of driving while under the influence of alcohol after they entered "no contest" pleas Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest Court. Fined were:

Elmer J. Dickey of Lisbon RD 4, $200 and costs, six days in jail, operator's license suspended for 90 days, and Donald E. Russell of Malvern, $150 and costs, three days in jail, operator's license suspended for 30 days.

Richard M. Harrold of Elkton and Merle O. Webber Jr. of Youngstown, both cited for defective mufflers, were fined $10 and costs each.

James W. Wood of Waynesburg, charged with running a stop sign, forfeited a $15 appearance bond.

Starting On 'Upbeat Note'

Nixon Fires Opening Gun In Drive For Presidency

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon fires the opening gun today in his campaign for the presidency and he says he is starting on an "upbeat note."

He added, however, that the outcome of the election can not be predicted now because issues, not the candidates, are predominant in the minds of the voters.

"When people are more concerned about issues than men," Nixon said Tuesday night in an unscheduled news conference, "they make up their minds by what the candidates say about the issues. This is the year when people are wrought up. This is the year when people are unpredictable."

The first campaign swing takes Nixon to Chicago, San Francisco, San Jose, Calif., Houston, Oklahoma City and Pittsburgh. He pointed out that the itinerary covers all four sections of the nation.

"We start definitely on an upbeat note," he said, "not because of what happened at the Democratic convention but at ours. We won the nomination without splitting the party."

He said Chicago was selected as the kickoff point for his campaign weeks before the Democratic convention, during which violent disorders erupted.

Nixon indicated that he might issue a statement on the rioting and the charges that the Chicago police "overreacted" against demonstrators. "I am studying it now," he said.

His Chicago schedule called for a motorcade through the Loop and then at 9 p.m. CDT a question-and-answer session, on live television with a panel and an audience. "If I don't make the statement, we may deal with it during the telecast," he said.

Speaking generally about the outlook for the campaign, Nixon said there are more undecided voters today than there were in 1960 when he lost a hairline race to John F. Kennedy.

"The issues are more volatile today," Nixon said. "In 1960, there was no war in Vietnam. Disorders in the cities were not a great issue. There was no inflation."

Because of the issues confronting the voters today, he continued, "We can change a lot of people's minds."

Asked about the effect of former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's candidacy, Nixon said he does not believe "people are going to waste their votes on a third party candidate." As his campaign and that of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey develops, he said, the support for Wallace will diminish. "I could be wrong," Nixon added.

He describel Illinois, California, Texas and Pennsylvania as "up for grabs" in this election.

In the final weeks of the campaign, he said he plans to concentrate on what he called "the big seven"—New York, California, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Texas. They have a total of 210 electoral college votes.

With respect to the Southern states, Nixon said he will campaign in Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia and Florida. "But in naming those states," he continued, "I am not excluding others."

Councilmen OK One-Man Radar For Wellsville

Wellsville Council approved the purchase of one-man control radar equipment, passed an ordinance establishing a $10-a-month salary increase for the sanitation department clerk and heard committee reports when it met Tuesday night.

An ordinance authorizing Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, to advertise for bids for the system to control speeding was passed on third reading, with Robert Taggart and J. Brad Phillips casting no votes. Russell Keefer, Paul Todd, Glen Mathess, Nunzio Lombardozzi and Jack Call voted yes.

TODD explained his change in thinking from two previous meetings was based on several meetings with the mayor of Toronto and police had disclosed that their one-man radar "was quite an asset to the city in fines and slowing speeding."

The legislation setting the salary of Mrs. Helen Secrist, sanitation clerk, at $290 a month was adopted unanimously under suspension of rules.

The increase, retroactive to May, was voted due to the department's additional duty of handling parking meter fees.

Harold Sneddon, manager of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office in East Liverpool, announced that work will begin soon on a $30,730 pipeline replacement project in downtown Wellsville.

He said about a half-mile of new pipeline will be laid along both sides of Main St. (State Route 7) between 9th and 6th.

The Bernard Pipeline Co. of Barberton will make the replacement for the Ohio Valley Gas Co. Sneddon explained that the line will be laid along both sides of the street near the curb in order to maintain traffic during construction. The present line lies beneath the street in a traffic lane. Work is expected to be completed early in November.

COUNCIL instructed Todd, refuse chairman, to check with Baldasare concerning the condemning of the city's fill land after a report that the County Health Department is in the process of condemning it. Mathess, a member of the committee, explained that the state is going to license certain land fills in the county that come within specifications. Phillips, also a member of the committee, commented that a man tearing houses down on 25th St. is hauling the old lumber of the refuse fill and that the dump has been on fire.

Upon a motion by Keefer, property committee chairman, Council instructed Solicitor William Bush to prepare legislation to advertise for bids to lease the city's plot of land on the old waterworks site, near the flood wall in the east end. Earlier in the meeting, the owner of the Ace Trucking firm presented a request to lease the land, on which he wants to erect a 10,000 - square - foot warehouse before cold weather.

In a street and light committee report by Lombardozzi, chairman, permission was granted Ray Piatt of 1115 Main St. to cut additional curb for a double garage under the supervision of Baldasare. Permission also was given to erect a "No Parking In Driveway" sign at a home on 13th St. between Center and Clover Sts. The property owner will pay for the sign.

Phillips, also reporting for the street and light committee, presented requests of two Danbury Ave. residents — Mrs. Paul Wilson and Mrs. McNicol — for increased illumination in one light and a new light.

IN OTHER committee reports, Mathess, finance chairman, recommended reconsidering the request of John Jarvis, an extra fireman, at the Aug. 20 meeting for an increase in the hourly rate for his group, after the first of the year, since there are no funds available now for a raise. He stated that the extra firemen had asked for an hourly salary increase from $1.67 to $2 for a full day.

Mathess informed Council that Mayor William Daugherty had asked for a uniform traffic ticket, calling the present one outmoded. He commented that with Council's permission he would work with the mayor in drawing up a suitable ticket. A discussion was held on the collection of back traffic fines.

Council agreed that removal or retention of the barricade to the Black Acres Estate being developed by Delmar T. O'Hara would be contingent on the opinion of the city solicitor. O'Hara has asked removal of the barricade placed by Baldasare on an access leading from the Hammond Park Rd. Mrs. Helen Welch, chairman of the Hammond Park Commission, had been instrumental in placing of the barricade.

PHILLIPS, chairman, reported that the rules, claims and ordinance committee recommended that the city not pay an $89.28 claim of a motorist for a new fender for her car. It was the committee's opinion that negligence on the motorist's part resulted in the scratched fender when she bumped into a rail against a cement culvert at 20th St.

The mayor's report of $1,450.-70 in fines and other violations for August was accepted. The Board of Elections acknowledged receipt of an ordinance to place a 2-mill levy for a fire truck on the Nov. 5 ballot.

Wayne Rose, president, announced that the ordinance providing for a gas rate increase passed Aug. 20 by Council had been returned signed by the mayor.

Lombardozzi served as clerk in the absence of Andrew J. Lynn. Opening prayer was given by Keefer.

New Bridge Opened In West Township

LISBON — Replacement of a bridge on the southern end of Myers Rd., one mile east of Lynchburg in West Township has been completed and the road is open for traffic, according to John Ursu, Columbiana County Engineer.

The new bridge, between Route 30 and the Penn - Central Railroad tracks to the south, is of steel - beam construction with a wooden deck. Ursu said it is four feet wider than the old steel - truss bridge which had a concrete deck.

Ursu said the replacement is the 23rd since he became engineer in 1965. The work was done by the County Highway Department.

Way Cleared For Firm To Recover Supplies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court has cleared the way for the Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Corp. and Dana Corp. of Toledo to recover equipment and parts from a strike-bound plant here.

Judge John L. Angelotta Tuesday denied a court order brought by United Auto Workers Local 217 to halt repossession by the two firms in their United Screw & Bolt Corp.

Court Leaves Problem To Sheriff, Jennings

NEW CUMBERLAND — Sheriff Joseph Rodak and Clayton Jennings Jr. met with the Hancock County Court of Commissioners Tuesday to discuss Jennings' grievances over his dismissal as a Hancock deputy.

Rodak explained to Jennings that he had no personal grudge against him, but that he would have been overdrawn in his budget if he had retained him.

At this point, the commissioners approached Floyd Tarr, legal council for the court, and that it was decided that this was a problem between the sheriff and Jennings and that the court had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Norman D. Ferrari Jr., representing the Farm Committee of the Children's Home Board, was present to discuss the possibility of making the farm self-supporting. He presented plans compiled by Oliver Johnson, extension agent, and a representative from the Department of Agriculture at West Virginia University.

The plans showed exactly how many crops and animals would be needed to furnish enough food for each child per year. The possibility of building a new barn for the farm was discussed.

William Cipoletti of the Monongahela Power Co. presented a flood lighting proposal for the children's home. Commissioner William Graham thought the home should have suburban lighting instead of flood lighting. Another proposal is expected from the power company in a few days.

A motion was approved to advertise for two new trucks—one for the cemetery and the other for the dog warden.

Two Judges Uninjured In Road Mishap

A traffic accident Tuesday morning near Carrollton turned back two East Liverppol jurists on their way to a judicial conference in Columbus.

Judges Raymond S. Buzzard of Columbiana County Common Pleas Court, his wife and Judge Samuel Chertoff of Municipal Court escaped injury in the mishap about 8:30 on Route 39 four miles east of Carrollton.

Judge Buzzard said he was driving "not over 40 miles-an-hour, following another car downhill. It had just started to rain," he said. The road curved sharply to the right at the bottom of the hill and both cars had to stop for a stopped school bus in the opposite lane, he explained.

The judge said his brakes took hold for an instant, then the car began to slide and hit the rear of the car ahead. He said his sedan was almost stopped before the impact. The woman driving the other car complained of her neck, the judge said.

He had his car towed to a Carrollton garage for repairs. Judge and Mrs. Buzzard and Judge Chertoff returned home. Judge Chertoff flew to Columbus yesterday afternoon with George A. Aronson, East Liverpool attorney. Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem also flew to Columbus yesterday to represent Common Pleas court at the meeting, which was called by the State Supreme Court to discuss the judicial amendment to the constitution.

Irondale Driver Hurt In Mishap

An Irondale motorist was hospitalized with injuries suffered in an accident Tuesday morning on Jefferson Couny Rd. 60 about six miles north of Richmond.

The Wintersville Highway Patrol said Walter N. Sutton, 50, of Irondale RD 1 was headed south in his pickup truck when he drove off the right berm and rammed a tree and embankment.

Sutton told officers he crested a hill on a curve and observed an oncoming vehicle.

He was admitted to St. John's Hospital, Steubenville, with nose injuries and was to be released today.

Judge Slates Hearing For Case On Property

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp today set a hearing Tuesday morning at 9 for Warren Willison of the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd., accused of failure to comply with an order of a deputy state fire marshal.

The affidavit signed by Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne alleges Willison, as "administrator" of homes on Dresden Ave. and Fairview St., failed to comply with an order to raze or repair the structures within 30 days. The affidavit was signed July 18.

Willison asked time to obtain counsel. The court then entered a not guilty plea for him and released him on his own recognizance.

Boy Suffers Leg Fracture

An East Liverpool boy was listed in "satisfactory" condition this morning at City Hospital following an accidnt on Route 267, about a mile north of the city limits at 2:15 Tuesday afternoon.

Woman Jailed For Drinking

A woman identified as Rose Carnes of East Liverpool was remanded to jail in a default of a fine of $50 and costs imposed today by Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp when she pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge filed under state law. She was arrested at 2:34 this morning in Apple Alley by Patrolman David Huffman.

Penalized On 2 Counts

George A. Fetty of 609 Edgewood Ave. was given the alternative of paying a $50 fine or serving two days in jail when arraigned today before Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp on a charge of resisting arrest. The charge was an outgrowth of an incident at 10:13 p. m. Tuesday in which Fetty was arrested by Patrolman James Woods on an intoxication charge. He was fined $10 and costs on the intoxication count.

Newell Motorist Fined, Sentenced

NEW CUMBERLAND — A Newell man was fined $100 and costs and given 48 hours in jail following a hearing Tuesday before Squire John D. Herron.

Patrick Duffield, 46, was charged with driving while his license was revoked. He was arrested by West Virginia state police.

In other hearings, Ronald K. Anderson, 25, of New Cumberland was fined $10 and costs for having no license plate and $10 and costs for improper brakes.

John R. Wright, 34, of New Cumberland was fined $10 and cost for failure to have his vehicle under control and Charles Fish, 18, of New Cumberland drew the same fine for hazardous driving.

Air Patrol Unit Sets Committee

A project committee was named during the meeting of East Liverpool Civil Air Patrol Squadron 307C Tuesday night at headquarters on Pennsylvania Ave.

It includes Rick Badger, Karen Angus, Sharon Angus, Beverly Meredith and Ivaloe Lockhart. They will meet with Richard Badger and Jay Finney on Thursday at 5:30 p. m.

Wayne Poole, Blair Lockhart, Beverly Meredith, Greg Fitch and Rick Badger will meet Friday at 5:30 p.m. with Comdr. Don Poole.

Kris Wilson, Ron Wilson, Ray Hess, John Prokop, Art Craven and Mark Poole will meet Friday at 10 a. m.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at 7 p.m. Those interested in joining as a senior or cadet member are invited to attend.

Hearing Slated Following Fight

Don Hickman, 29, of Highlandtown was admitted to City Hospital at 11:05 p. m. Tuesday as the result of a fight still being investigated by Wellsville police.

Hickman suffered a possible fractured nose and a laceration of the right eyebrow.

Wellsville police said Dennis Shanks, 26, of 804½ Broadway, driving a 1965 convertible, and James S. Salsberry, 21, of 1845 Main St., Wellsville, driving a 1968 sedan, and Hickman, a passenger, apparently were having an argument.

Salsberry forced Shanks over to the curb and the cars collided. A fight resulted and Hickman was injured. Shanks and Salsberry were charged with disorderly conduct, with a hearing set for Saturday at 10 a.m.

Petition Planned By Parents Over School Bus Issue

A group of Westfield Rd. residents, seeking to obtain school bus transportation for their children to the LaCroft School, say they plan to file petitions with the East Liverpool board of education and state authorities.

At issue is whether the distance from their homes to the school is longer or shorter than the mile distance required for pupil bus travel.

John Muschweck Jr. of Simmons Rd. reported he measured the distance with a measuring device and accompanied by a notary public Tuesday afternoon, and maintains the distance is longer than a mile.

Board of Education President Samual Brown along with Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini and Curtis Miller, transportation supervisor, said they have measured the distance in automobiles and the distance is less than a mile. Muschweck said residents also have used autos for measuring the distance, and it is longer than a mile.

Muschweck said Westfield Rd. is too hazardous for children to travel.

An ironic sidelight to the issue was the injuring of Muschweck's son, John, 10, who was struck by an auto Tuesday at the intersection of Simmons Rd. and Route 267 as the youth went for the mail. He is in City Hospital.

Hearing Slated For City Man In Alleged Assault

A hearing will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. before Justice of the Peace Stephen Germusa of Midland for William Sisco of East Liverpool on charges of burglary, assault and battery on a police officer and obstructing an officer in his duties.

Atty. J. Leonard Solomon of Beaver Falls has been appointed by the court to serve as defense counsel for Sisco.

He was held on two charges stemming from a struggle with an officer at the time of his arrest early Monday. The other involves a Midland entering.

Pennsylvania State Police at Chippewa have filed additional burglary charges, accusing him of an entry at the Gaylord's store near Beaver Falls.

The Midland charge stems from a burglary and forcible entry at 318 Woodlane Alley on Aug. 2.

Continuance Granted In Jobless Pay Case

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp today set a hearing Thursday morning for Walter Mallory of Steubenville, accused of falsely claiming a dependency allowance when collecting unemployment benefits in August 1967.

Mallory was arraigned originally on the charge months ago and released on his promise to make restitution to the state for the alleged overpayment. He entered a guilty plea on the charge March 29. When he failed to return for a hearing May 29, a bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Mallory told the court today he since has made restitution of $270 to the state. His hearing was continued to arrange the appearance of Charles Kalby of Youngstown, the investigator prosecuting the case for the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Barbecue A Better Burger

DEAR FOLKS: What's that old saying about "Who forgot the mustard?"

Anyway, on a recent picnic I forgot it. Now what's a hamburger without mustard? We did hai'en to have some bottled barbecue sauce which one usually puts on chicken and steaks, so I sued that.

Heloise

'Twas Wonderful!

I've never heard of a barbecued hamburger, but since that forgetful day, we have them all the time.

The sauce may be applied as you cook the meat over the grill or just poured on top of the meat after it is pan-fried. I found you could get more of that delicious tasting sauce on the sandwich if you would also pour it on the bun itself.

Sure does change the taste of the old ordinary hamburger.

So why not try my scrumptious Bar-B-Cue Burger?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I took the skirt off our baby's bassinet, I didn't want to wrap it up and put it away. So I decided to use it as a ruffle skirt for the baby crib.

I cut the skirt down the side seam, making a long strip. Then placed it under the mattress on top of the springs, enough so that it would hang just the right length. It was lovely.

Since I use the area under the crib for storage space which doesn't show now, the ruffle serves two purposes.

MRS. LOUIS GATT

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: On weekdays I exercise with those fellows on television. But on weekends I never exercise because I don't like to do it alone. Then I hit on a plan.

I could get all the exercise I need while ironing!

While I'm ironing things that don't need lots of attention, I run "in place." Then when I'm ironing clothes that require concentration, I wait until I finish each piece, then I run around the room for two minutes.

Besides, my husband said if I lost ten pounds he would buy me a new wardrobe. But, Heloise, it will be a NO-IRON wardrobe — because I hate to iron!

AN ARDENT READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I've just discovered the best use yet for cardboards that are put in men's shirts when they come back from the laundry.

I completely covered three of these cardboards with pieces of aluminum foil. Laid them out side by side with the edges overlapping a little and stapled them together.

I use this to protect the walls behind the stove from grease spatters by setting it on the back edge of my stove and leaning it against the wall.

After I have finished frying the food, I just remove the cardboard and wipe off the grease.

I also covered several to use as pads for the stove and counter top.

ANNE MURRAY.

DEAR HELOISE: When teaching your young children to print their name, remember that first graders don't print in all capital letters. They begin to learn the difference in upper and lower case letters from the first day.

So teach your child to print "Sharon" rather than "SHARON," for it shakes up a youngster when the teacher tells him he can't print the way he was taught at home!

A TEACHER.

DEAR HELOISE: During the strawberry season, I bought quite a few crates for canning and have saved all those nice little plastic baskets they were packed in. I hate to throw them away, but so far haven't been able to find a use for them.

I'm wondering if any of your readers might have a suggestion.

MRS. T. J. KIZER.

-:-

Gals, let's all get our "thinking caps" on and come up with some good ideas to help our friend. I'm sure you have some.

Just drop us a note in care of The Review. We'd sure love to hear from you.

HELOISE.

Memory Fadeless Wealth

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a fadeless wealth.

It is the ever-golden currency of the mind, a coinage that is more likely to gain in value than depreciate with the passage of time.

No one can put a price tag on his memories—except perhaps people who write spicy memoirs—but you've probably got a pretty valuable hoard if you can look back and remember when:

The only fellows who beat bongo drums lived in jungles.

One of the first things a bride bought when she came back from her honeymoon was a washboard.

Most farmers still preferred mules to tractors because you never had to oil a mule and it didn't rust if left out in the rain.

During the Great Depression it seemed like there were more men on street corners selling applies than were eating them.

A young fellow would be ordered out of a community pool if he dared show up for a swim clad in bathing trunks that left his chest bare.

A college girl thought there was nothing more romantic than to go for a canoe ride at twilight with a young blade who played the mandolin.

You could win a reputation for repartee by asking, "Why did the chicken cross the road?" and then quickly adding—"Why, to get to the other side."

About three out of five automobiles had patches on the inner tubes of their tires and about eight out of ten small boys habitually had patches on their trousers.

The hippies of the 1920s were called "cake eaters," and their revolt against the commonplace was expressed chiefly by growing long sideburns and wearing outlandishly wide pants and pork pie hats.

A girl could start unsavory gossip about her morals merely by being seen riding with a boy in the rumble seat of a sports car.

You could tell a woman who dyed her hair as far as you could see the color of henna.

Fat people were thought to look healthier than thin people. If you were slender you were urged to eat more and "get some meat on those bones."

Doctors had no telephone answering services. The only way they could be sure of not being called out in the middle of the night to make a house call was to go on a vacation.

If you had told the average wife that some day men's shirts would be invented that wouldn't require ironing, she'd have burst into hysterical laughter.

Mother became highly nervous when a telegraph messenger came to the door. She was sure the news was bad, because nobody would pay that kind of money to send good news. They'd wait and write a letter.

Nobody wondered whether God was dead. He was as alive as Satan, and Satan was very much alive. Anybody with eyes in his head could look around and see the Devil's handiwork everywhere.

Those were the days! Remember?

Newell Firemen Will Form Corps

The Newell volunteer fire department today announced plans for the formation of a baton and drum and bugle corps.

The unit will be open to anyone in the area. Miss Jane Snow of East Liverpool, area contest star and baton instructor, will be the director. Those interested in joining may contact her.

The firemen's committee working on the project includes Robert Duncan, president, Gene Lytton, Vernon Betteridge, Jim Norris and Fire Chief Earl Flesch.

Town's City Manager Resigns 'Under Fire'

FRANKLIN, Ohio (AP)—John P. Griffin, 38, announced his resignation Tuesday, effective immediately, as city manager of this Warren County town of 11,000.

Griffin, who has held the $10,500-a-year post since 1966, reportedly has been under fire from city council as a result of disagreement in various areas of city government.

Homemakers also will have an opportunity to visit the horticultural gardens, conservation and recreation areas and the science exhibits. More information and tickets are available at the extension office here.

Palestine Pool Lists Summer's Attendance

EAST PALESTINE — The attendance at the City Park swimming pool hit 62,000 for the summer of 1968, Joe Berresford, park director, has announced. This was about average for the pool.

The pool closed Monday night for the season with the annual swimming and diving exhibition viewed by 700.

Berresford said attendance at the pool was low during the cool June, but increased for July and August. He said other park facilities will remain open as weather permits.

Driller Requests Lease On City's Refuse Landfill

John Galey of Pittsburgh, identifying himself as an oil and gas well developer, asked Council Tuesday night for an oil and gas lease on the 150-acre tract of strip-mined land in Madison Township which the city bought in 1967 for use as a landfill refuse disposal site.

Galey said he holds a similar lease on an adjoining 380-acre tract from the estate of William Powell. The city bought the landfill site from Mr. Powell. Galey said he does not plan now to drill on the city property, but sought the lease to protect himself against another firm moving in nearby in case his well on the Powell property proves successful.

He said he would offer the city the standard terms — one-eighth of all the oil produced. He said he plans to drill a well to a depth of 7,000 to 8,000 feet. He said he would agree not to operate on the landfill site without the city's permission and then in such a way that he would not interfere with the dump operation.

He made the request through his counsel, Lawrence W. Smith Jr. Council agreed to the lease proposal, but pointed out in the case of city-owned property the deal would have to be advertised publicly, with the lease going to the highest bidder. Galey agreed to the decision.

Sheep Shearing Course Offered

LISBON — Junior shepherds interested in learning correct shearing techniques are invited to enroll for a short course Sept. 24-25 at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center at Wooster.

'Inept Performance' Charged

Senate Unit Cites Army On Pushing Rifle Pacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate investigating subcommittee today charged the Army with "a most inept performance" in awarding contracts to accelerate production of the M16 rifle.

While it will not attempt to undo decisions already taken, the subcommittee said, "this should be the last time that any defense agency conducts a procurement in such a awkward, unreasonable manner."

The five-member unit of the Senate Armed Services Committee commented in a final report on a long investigation of Army contract awards for a sharp increase in M16 production to meet Vietnam needs.

The contracts were awarded to General Motors Corp. and Harrington & Richardson, without competitive bidding.

The subcommittee said two other companies—Maremont Corp. of Saco, Maine, and Cadillac Gage—were prepared to submit lower prices than those of the winners.

The report summed up major findings with these comments:

"The Army's method eliminated two companies before considering the prices they would and could have submitted . . . They could have been considered without delaying either contracts or production."

"General Motors was selected as one of the contractors without considering that their price was $20 million more than other producers found competent by the Army's own evaluation."

"The removal of price as a factor is not even plausibly supported by the reasons advanced by the Army."

The subcommittee said that General Motors and Harrington & Richardson had each received orders for 240,000 rifles at ceiling prices of $56.3 million and $41.5 million, respectively.

Maremont testified during hearings it was prepared to bid $36.5 million. The report cited testimony to a House subcommittee that Cadillac Gage had set a price of $36.8 million.

The subcommittee renewed its objection to the Army's criticism of the existing Maremont test-firing range while approving a GM plan to build such a range in an open area above its proposed production line.

And it again held that the urgency advanced as a reason for abandoning competitive-bidding procedures should have required more consideration to having Colt Industries Inc., previously the sole supplier of the rifle, increase its production.

"The process of obtaining additional production of M16 rifles reflects no credit on those involved in supervising and directing the action. It has been, to say the least, a most inept performance," the subcommittee said.

"It would not now serve the national interest to call a hold to the production efforts already underway. "Certainly, however, this should be the last time that any defense agency conducts a procurement in such an awkward, unreasonable manner."

Republican Club Will Hold Picnic

LISBON — The Mid-County Republican Club will hold a coverdish picnic for members and families at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at Whinery's Landing, Guilford Lake.

Reports on the Republican National Convention at Miami will be given by Ford McQuilkin of Homeworth, Columbiana County GOP chairman; Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem; Charles Pike of Lisbon, convention delegate and former county chairman, and his sons, Ashley and Robby, who attended special sessions for young Republicans.

Mrs. Velma Cope of Lisbon, president, invites all Republicans to attend. A coverdish and table service are the only requirements, she said. Eyler Hinchliffe, vice president and manager at Whinery's Landing, says boats will be available for recreation.

Bishop Consecrated In Cleveland Diocese

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Msgr. William M. Cosgrove was consecrated Tuesday auxiliary bishop for the Cleveland Catholic Diocese during an impressive ceremony in St. John Cathedral.

Bishop Clarence C. Issenmann officiated assisted by Bishop Harold R. Perry of New Orleans and Bishop John F. Whealon of Erie, Pa.

A native of Canton, Bishop Cosgrove was ordained in 1943 and was history professor and spiritual director at Borromeo Seminary in Wickliffe before being assigned pastor of St. Henry Parish, Cleveland, in 1966.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Barbecue A Better Burger

DEAR FOLKS: What's that old saying about "Who forgot the mustard?"

Anyway, on a recent picnic I forgot it. Now what's a hamburger without mustard?

Heloise

We did hai'en to have some bottled barbecue sauce which one usually puts on chicken and steaks, so I sued that.

'Twas Wonderful!

I've never heard of a barbecued hamburger, but since that forgetful day, we have them all the time.

The sauce may be applied as you cook the meat over the grill or just poured on top of the meat after it is pan-fried. I found you could get more of that delicious tasting sauce on the sandwich if you would also pour it on the bun itself.

Sure does change the taste of the old ordinary hamburger.

So why not try my scrumptious Bar-B-Cue Burger?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I took the skirt off our baby's bassinet, I didn't want to wrap it up and put it away. So I decided to use it as a ruffle skirt for the baby crib.

I cut the skirt down the side seam, making a long strip. Then placed it under the mattress on top of the springs, enough so that it would hang just the right length. It was lovely.

Since I use the area under the crib for storage space which doesn't show now, the ruffle serves two purposes.

MRS. LOUIS GATT

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: On weekdays I exercise with those fellows on television. But on weekends I never exercise because I don't like to do it alone. Then I hit on a plan.

I could get all the exercise I need while ironing!

While I'm ironing things that don't need lots of attention, I run "in place." Then when I'm ironing clothes that require concentration, I wait until I finish each piece, then I run around the room for two minutes.

Besides, my husband said if I lost ten pounds he would buy me a new wardrobe. But, Heloise, it will be a NO-IRON wardrobe — because I hate to iron!

AN ARDENT READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I've just discovered the best use yet for cardboards that are put in men's shirts when they come back from the laundry.

I completely covered three of these cardboards with pieces of aluminum foil. Laid them out side by side with the edges overlapping a little and stapled them together.

I use this to protect the walls behind the stove from grease spatters by setting it on the back edge of my stove and leaning it against the wall.

After I have finished frying the food, I just remove the cardboard and wipe off the grease.

I also covered several to use as pads for the stove and counter top.

ANNE MURRAY.

DEAR HELOISE: When teaching your young children to print their name, remember that first graders don't print in all capital letters. They begin to learn the difference in upper and lower case letters from the first day.

So teach your child to print "Sharon" rather than "SHARON," for it shakes up a youngster when the teacher tells him he can't print the way he was taught at home!

A TEACHER.

DEAR HELOISE: During the strawberry season, I bought quite a few crates for canning and have saved all those nice little plastic baskets they were packed in. I hate to throw them away, but so far haven't been able to find a use for them.

I'm wondering if any of your readers might have a suggestion.

MRS. T. J. KIZER.

Gals, let's all get our "thinking caps" on and come up with some good ideas to help our friend. I'm sure you have some.

Just drop us a note in care of The Review. We'd sure love to hear from you.

Republican Club Will Hold Picnic

LISBON — The Mid-County Republican Club will hold a coverdish picnic for members and families at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at Whinery's Landing, Guilford Lake.

Reports on the Republican National Convention at Miami will be given by Ford McQuilkin of Homeworth, Columbiana County GOP chairman; Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem; Charles Pike of Lisbon, convention delegate and former county chairman, and his sons, Ashley and Robby, who attended special sessions for young Republicans.

Mrs. Velma Cope of Lisbon, president, invites all Republicans to attend. A coverdish and table service are the only requirements, she said. Eyler Hinchliffe, vice president and manager at Whinery's Landing, says boats will be available for recreation.

Bishop Consecrated In Cleveland Diocese

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Msgr. William M. Cosgrove was consecrated Tuesday auxiliary bishop for the Cleveland Catholic Diocese during an impressive ceremony in St. John Cathedral.

Bishop Clarence C. Issenmann officiated assisted by Bishop Harold R. Perry of New Orleans and Bishop John F. Whealon of Erie, Pa.

A native of Canton, Bishop Cosgrove was ordained in 1943 and was history professor and spiritual director at Borromeo Seminary in Wickliffe before being assigned pastor of St. Henry Parish, Cleveland, in 1966.

The origin of comets is not known.

Oakland To Repeat In AFL, Oilers Over Jets In East

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Chiefs Contend

By MURRAY CHASS

NEW YORK (AP) — As the New York Jets trudged out of the locker room at their training camp recently, a fan studied them for a moment, then said, "They look like the Green Bay Packers."

Unfortunately for the Jets, they don't look like the Packers on the field.

In fact, they might not even look like the Houston Oilers.

That's why the Oilers should repeat as Eastern Division champions and go into the American Football League title game against the Oakland Raiders.

That would be a repeat of last year's title contest, and in this opinion, the outcome will be repeated, too—the Raiders winning and going into the Super Bowl for another crack at the National League.

Here's how the standings could look at the end of the season:

East	West
1. Houston	1. Oakland
2. New York	2. Kansas City
3. Buffalo	3. San Diego
4 Miami	4 Denver
5. Boston	5.Cincinnati

Because they have Joe Namath, the Jets for the past couple of years have been considered a likely candidate for the title game. But after good starts each time, the Jets have failed to make it.

This year again they have to be given a good chance to win in the East, but from this view they'll miss again after a brutal struggle. Actually, it's not too far fetched to foresee the Eastern crown being decided in a playoff game.

The Oilers had two things going for them last year—a tremendously stingy defense and a pair of rugged runners, Hoyle Granger and Woodie Campbell. If they can get a better than mediocre passing game to join the combination, they should get by New York.

The Jets, on the other hand, could surprise if halfback Emerson Boozer returns to his pre-injury 1967 form. He's still recuperating from knee surgery, though, and it'll take some time for him to join Namath and form a more potent offense.

None of the other teams in the division appears strong enough to challenge the Oilers and Jets.

For a while, Buffalo looked as if it might bounce back toward the top, but then injuries set in, including a damaging one to quarterback Jack Kemp, who's out for the season with torn knee ligaments.

Miami is progressing rapidly but still not far enough along, and Boston has too many problems, including one at quarterback where Mike Taliaferro is trying to make the Patriot offense go.

Despite a couple of Achilles tendon injuries that most likely will keep defensive tackle Tom Keating and linebacker Bill Laskey out for the season, the Raiders appear to have too much to be unseated.

They'll miss Keating and Laskey, but they still have a rugged bunch of defenders led by middle linebacker Dan Connors and cornerback Kent McCloughan.

Kansas City could surprise and challenge Oakland, but its reshuffled defense still must prove itself. The Chiefs' biggest chance is for complacency to hit the Raiders.

The same goes for San Diego although the Chargers' defense keeps them a little behind the Chiefs.

The fight for fourth place could be an interesting one because the Denver Broncos are hurting without quarterback Steve Tenis for at least the first four games, while the expansion Cincinnati Bengals have displayed an unexpectedly tough defense.

The Broncos, however, should barely stay ahead of Cincinnati, which has not shown any kind of scoring punch.

Area football products are causing news and comment in several parts of the country.

Midland's Mike Krivoshia was placed on waivers by the Houston Oilers of the AFL, and when no other club claimed him he was put on the taxi squad of the Oilers. Krivoshia will continue to work out with the team and draw a salary and may be activated if one of the regular Oiler running backs is injured.

BEAVER LOCAL'S Dennis Klembara, a freshman at Youngstown U., has received praise from Penguin grid coach "Dike" Beede. "I'm very pleased with the progress of our quarterbacks", Beede said. "They have been very satisfactory." Klembara is competing with another freshman, Steve Priley of Youngstown Woodrow Wilson, and veteran Jim Deering. The three were rated even in the early drills. Highlight of the Youngstown U. season will be Oct. 12, when the Pensacola Naval Air Station team, quarterbacked by former All-American Roger Staubach, invades Youngstown.

Midland's Jan Samuels, a sophomore at Findlay, is called "a smart quarterback" by coach By Morgan. The Findlay comment on Samuels is: "Back to direct the Oiler no-huddle offense after a spectacular freshman campaign is 5-10, 170-pound quarterback Jan Samuels. Samuels suffered a shoulder injury in the first game of the season last year and was out for three games, but he managed to complete 29 of 60 passes for 501 yards and five touchdowns."

A classmate of Samuels' at Midland, Aaron Golding, 6-1, 200, will return as a starter at defensive guard for Findlay. One of Samuel's favorite pass receivers is senior Jack Mondell of Ellwood City.

NOTE TO POTTER grid coach Bob McNea: I know you aren't yet preparing the team for the season's finale against Alliance, but when the time comes I have a clipping for you from the Alliance Review of Aug. 30. The story predicts a 7-1-2 mark for the Aviators, and says, "The Aviators should roll over Akron Central, Akron Buchtel, Warren Harding, Barberton, Canton McKinley, Bedford Chanel and East Liverpool."

Carlton, Scarpitto Among Veterans Cut

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Youth must be served, and none know it better than the batch of pro football veterans who got their walking papers Tuesday.

Among the jobless were Buffalo fullback Wray Carlton, the American Football League club's all-time rushing leader, and Bob Scarpitto of Denver, the AFL's leading punter the past two seasons.

Others who got the pink slip included Washington defensive back Jimmy Burson, a six-year veteran of the National League for whom the Redskins traded during the off-season; offensive guard Bookie Bolin of the New York Giants, another six-year man who played on two Eastern Conference championship teams, and Baltimore defensive back Jimmy Welch, who had survived eight campaigns.

A couple of big-name youngsters also got the ax. Washington asked waivers on fullback Ray McDonald, the team's No. 1 draft choice a year ago. And Boston gave up on quarterback Don Trull, a three-year veteran acquired from Houston in an effort to shore up the Patriots' offense.

That handed the signal-calling job to Mike Taliaferro, obtained from the New York Jets several weeks ago for Babe Parilli, and rookie Tom Sherman, a free agent from Penn State.

McDonald, a 245-pound bruiser from Idaho, was philosophical about his release, although he averaged 4.3 yards in 52 carries last season despite missing six games because of injuries.

"I hope no other NFL team puts in a claim for me," he said. "I want to make the Redskins' squad. I know I can play football, but I need more experience."

If no one claims him, McDonald will play with the Virginia Sailors of the Atlantic Coast League.

Carlton and Scarpitto also said they will try to hook on with other clubs. Carlton, 31, joined Buffalo when the AFL was born in 1960 and gained 3,368 yards over the years.

Scarpitto, who also has played split end on occasion, set an AFL record of 45.8 yards per punt in 1966 and averaged 44.9 last year, including a 73-yarder, longest in AFL history.

With the AFL getting under way this weekend, Boston learned that fullback Jim Nance has only a 50-50 chance of playing in Sunday's opener at Buffalo.

The hard-running Nance sprained an ankle in Monday's exhibition loss to Philadelphia. He led the AFL in rushing in 1966 with a record 1,458 yards and again last season with 1,216.

In San Francisco, veteran John Brodie was handed the 49ers' quarterbacking job by Coach Dick Nolan, beating off another challenge from George Mira.

Punchless Dodgers Win; Pirates Edge Astros 3-2

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers, whose banjo-hitting style of attack often causes their pitching staff to sing the blues, suddenly blasted out a baseball version of the Anvil Chorus that all but tumbled the walls of Connie Mack Stadium.

Banjo hitter is a term that refers to a singles hitter, but the Dodgers were anything but that at Philadelphia Tuesday night.

They pounded out three homers and five doubles to produce eight runs in the final two innings for a 10-9 victory over the Phillies.

Of the Dodgers' other four hits, three were singles and one was Ken Boyer's two-run homer in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the National League, first-place St. Louis topped Cincinnati 5-3 in 11 innings, Pittsburgh edged Houston 3-2, the New York Mets beat Atlanta 4-3 and then lost to the Braves 7-6 in 12 innngs and the Chicago Cubs trounced San Francisco 8-3.

Willie Crawford led off the eighth inning by slamming a Dick Hall pitch off the right field light standard for a homer. Then with one out, Bill Sudakis homered over the right field wall and Boyer hit his second homer, off the upper left field stands.

Jim Lefebvre struck out, but pinch hitter Len Gabrielson walked and Gary Wagner relieved Hall. Tom Haller greeted Wagner with a double, and Ron Fairly slammed a pinch double that scored Gabrielson and Hall and tied the score 7-7.

Philadelphia took an 8-7 lead in the bottom of the eighth when Gary Sutherland walked with the bases loaded, but the Dodgers came right back with some more cannonading in the ninth.

Crawford greeted John Boozer with a double and scored on Davis' double. After Sudakis struck out and Boyer popped up, Lefebvre walked and Gabrielson doubled home Davis and Lefebvre.

Don Lock homered for the Phillies in the last of the ninth.

St. Louis sent Cincinnati to its sixth straight loss when Curt Flood singled home one run and Roger Maris' sacrifice fly drove in another in the 11th inning. Johnny Bench's two-out, two-run homer in the Cincinnati night sent the game into extra innings.

Pittsburgh beat Houston when Willie Stargell's 22nd homer snapped a 2-2 tie with two out in the sixth. Houston had tied the game in the previous inning on John Bateman's run-scoring double and Jose Herrera's RBI single.

The Mets won the opener of their doubleheader by scoring a pair of runs on two fielder's choice plays in the seventh inning. New York got its first two runs on J. C. Martin's homer in the second.

In the nightcap, Art Shamsky's eighth-inning homer tied the score at 4-4, but Atlanta gained the victory when Tommie Aaron singled home two runs and Marty Martinez singled in another in the 12th.

New York came back with two in its half of the inning before Cecil Upshaw got the final out.

Ferguson Jenkins won his 17th victory against 12 losses for the Cubs as Randy Hundley drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Ernie Banks hit his 27th homer. Willie McCovey belted his 32nd homer, with a man on, and Bobby Bonds slammed a solo shot for San Francisco.

Murphy Riding High After 2 Tour Wins

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — "I don't miss it at all," Bob Murphy said Tuesday. The winner of two consecutive professional golf tournaments remembered that only 10 days ago he was one of the tour's also-rans who must qualify to play on a week-to-week basis.

His victory at Philadelphia two weekends ago made the rotund former U.S. Amateur champion from Florida one of the Professional Golf Association's exempt players, who need not engage in qualifying rounds through the end of 1969.

His $30,000 victory Labor Day at Montclair, N.J., in the Thunderbird Tournament also made Murphy one of the richest players on the tour this year, with total winnings of $94,745.

Murphy's former companions in misery were forced through another hard day of qualifying Tuesday in the first preliminary to the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open Tournament, which starts here Thursday.

In contrast, Murphy spent the day in leisurely travel from Montclair to Wethersfield, and then hit some practice shots in an attempt to maintain his flood tide of success.

At the par-71 Wethersfield County Club he'll seek to become the only player to win three straight PGA tournaments this year. Bob Lunn, Dave Stockton and George Knudson won successive tournments earlier this year.

The qualifying round, which Murphy was grateful to escape from, was held Tuesday at Tunxis Plantation Country Club, a par-72 course in Farmington, another suburb of Hartford. Pace-setter in the qualifying was 27-year-old tour rookie Rod Horn of Overland Park, Kan., with a six-under-par 66.

The tournament field does not include four of the year' biggest names in golf, Lee Trevino, Gary Player, Bob Goalby and Julius Boros, who are playing the World Series of Golf at Akron, Ohio, Saturday and Sunday. In addition Arnold Palmer will be at Akron as a television commentator.

FREEHAN AT FIRST. Detroit Tiger catcher Bill Freehan and plate umpire Bill Valentine both ended up at first base on this play against the A's in Oakland last night. Tigers Down A's In Ninth, Lead At 8 As Orioles Lose

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit's Jim Northrup probably will be happy to bid the fair city of Oakland farewell when the Tigers finish their yearly business there tonight.

The Athletics certainly will be glad to see him go.

Northrup, who fought his way out of the American League's newest playground earlier this season after being floored with a fastball, had some more ups and downs Tuesday night before stroking the key hit in a 6-3 triumph over the A's.

The victory, coupled with Baltimore's 6-1 loss to the New York Yankees, sent the first-place Tigers eight games in front of the fading Orioles in the AL stretch run.

Elsewhere, Washington edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1, Cleveland trimmed California 7-2 and Boston beat Minnesota 4-1 in a five-inning, rain-shortened game.

Northrup committed a damaging error in the eighth inning as the Athletics rallied for three runs and a 3-2 edge. He then sent home the tying and deciding runs with a single in the ninth, sparking a four-run Tiger comeback.

The Detroit right fielder started the night on the downgrade, going hitless in his first three trips to the plate and stranding three base runners in the fifth. He singled to open the eighth—and was picked off first—but got back safely when John Donaldson's throw hit him in the head.

With the Tigers clinging to a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the eighth, Joe Keough laced a single to right. Allen Lewis raced home with the tying run and Sal Bando scored from first when Northrup booted the ball.

But the Tigers filled the bases again in the ninth and Northrup made amends for his miscue with a two-run single to right. Mickey Stanley scored the third run in the inning on a wild pitch and Northrup tallied the fourth on an infield roller, beating the throw to the plate with a sweeping slide.

Last May 26 at Oakland, Northrup was hit in the head by a Jack Aker pitch, but picked himself up and charged the Athletics' reliever, setting off a free-for-all that emptied both benches.

The Yankees caught up with Tom Phoebus, an old nemesis, in handing the Orioles their sixth setback in eight games. Phoebus, who took a 6-0 lifetime record against New York into the game, blanked the Yanks on one infield single until the sixth, when they knocked him out and grabbed a 2-1 lead on a walk and four singles.

Left-hander Fritz Peterson protected the margin until the ninth, when Roy White's bases-loaded triple and Robinson's second RBI single wrapped it up. Peterson, 9-9, was hit by a pitch in the ninth and Dooley Womack finished up.

Tim Cullen's two-run pinch single in the sixth overcame a 1-0 Chicago lead and Joe Coleman made it stand up with a four-hitter as the Senators climbed within one game of the ninth-place White Sox.

Multi-Year Pact Offered To Rigney

ANAHEIM (AP) — California Angels' owner Gene Autry has offered Manager Bill Rigney a multiyear contract and a chance to own stock in the American League club, informed sources said today.

Rigney, now wrapping up his 12th year as a major league manager and the senior pilot in the junior circuit, reportedly broke a golf date today to confer with a tax consultant and stock broker about the offer.

The 50-year-old manager has worked under one-year contracts with the Angels since their birth in the league's 1961 expansion. Before that, from 1956 to 1960, he managed the National League Giants both in New York and San Francisco.

Autry also reportedly assured Rigney that he is next-in-line to succeed Fred Haney as the club's general manager. Haney, 70, recently said he has given no thought to retirement.

Rigney has been the center of recent rumors that he will leave the Angels at the end of the season to manage the Giants, the Chicago White Sox or the American League expansion Kansas City Royals.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, whose banjo-hitting style of attack often causes their pitching staff to sing the blues, suddenly blasted out a baseball version of the Anvil Chorus that all but tumbled the walls of Connie Mack Stadium.

Banjo hitter is a term that refers to a singles hitter, but the Dodgers were anything but that at Philadelphia Tuesday night.

They pounded out three homers and five doubles to produce eight runs in the final two innings for a 10-9 victory over the Phillies.

Of the Dodgers' other four hits, three were singles and one was Ken Boyer's two-run homer in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the National League, first-place St. Louis topped Cincinnati 5-3 in 11 innings, Pittsburgh edged Houston 3-2, the New York Mets beat Atlanta 4-3 and then lost to the Braves 7-6 in 12 innngs and the Chicago Cubs trounced San Francisco 8-3.

Willie Crawford led off the eighth inning by slamming a Dick Hall pitch off the right field light standard for a homer. Then with one out, Bill Sudakis homered over the right field wall and Boyer hit his second homer, off the upper left field stands.

Jim Lefebvre struck out, but pinch hitter Len Gabrielson walked and Gary Wagner relieved Hall. Tom Haller greeted Wagner with a double, and Ron Fairly slammed a pinch double that scored Gabrielson and Hall and tied the score 7-7.

Philadelphia took an 8-7 lead in the bottom of the eighth when Gary Sutherland walked with the bases loaded, but the Dodgers came right back with some more cannonading in the ninth.

Crawford greeted John Boozer with a double and scored on Davis' double. After Sudakis struck out and Boyer popped up, Lefebvre walked and Gabrielson doubled home Davis and Lefebvre.

Don Lock homered for the Phillies in the last of the ninth.

St. Louis sent Cincinnati to its sixth straight loss when Curt Flood singled home one run and Roger Maris' sacrifice fly drove in another in the 11th inning. Johnny Bench's two-out, two-run homer in the Cincinnati night sent the game into extra innings.

Pittsburgh beat Houston when Willie Stargell's 22nd homer snapped a 2-2 tie with two out in the sixth. Houston had tied the game in the previous inning on John Bateman's run-scoring double and Jose Herrera's RBI single.

The Mets won the opener of their doubleheader by scoring a pair of runs on two fielder's choice plays in the seventh inning. New York got its first two runs on J. C. Martin's homer in the second.

In the nightcap, Art Shamsky's eighth-inning homer tied the score at 4-4, but Atlanta gained the victory when Tommie Aaron singled home two runs and Marty Martinez singled in another in the 12th.

New York came back with two in its half of the inning before Cecil Upshaw got the final out.

Ferguson Jenkins won his 17th victory against 12 losses for the Cubs as Randy Hundley drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Ernie Banks hit his 27th homer. Willie McCovey belted his 32nd homer, with a man on, and Bobby Bonds slammed a solo shot for San Francisco.

Murphy Riding High After 2 Tour Wins

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — "I don't miss it at all," Bob Murphy said Tuesday. The winner of two consecutive professional golf tournaments remembered that only 10 days ago he was one of the tour's also-rans who must qualify to play on a week-to-week basis.

His victory at Philadelphia two weekends ago made the rotund former U.S. Amateur champion from Florida one of the Professional Golf Association's exempt players, who need not engage in qualifying rounds through the end of 1969.

His $30,000 victory Labor Day at Montclair, N.J., in the Thunderbird Tournament also made Murphy one of the richest players on the tour this year, with total winnings of $94,745.

Murphy's former companions in misery were forced through another hard day of qualifying Tuesday in the first preliminary to the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open Tournament, which starts here Thursday.

In contrast, Murphy spent the day in leisurely travel from Montclair to Wethersfield, and then hit some practice shots in an attempt to maintain his flood tide of success.

At the par-71 Wethersfield County Club he'll seek to become the only player to win three straight PGA tournaments this year. Bob Lunn, Dave Stockton and George Knudson won successive tournments earlier this year.

The qualifying round, which Murphy was grateful to escape from, was held Tuesday at Tunxis Plantation Country Club, a par-72 course in Farmington, another suburb of Hartford. Pace-setter in the qualifying was 27-year-old tour rookie Rod Horn of Overland Park, Kan., with a six-under-par 66.

The tournament field does not include four of the year' biggest names in golf, Lee Trevino, Gary Player, Bob Goalby and Julius Boros, who are playing the World Series of Golf at Akron, Ohio, Saturday and Sunday. In addition Arnold Palmer will be at Akron as a television commentator.

FREEHAN AT FIRST. Detroit Tiger catcher Bill Freehan and plate umpire Bill Valentine both ended up at first base on this play against the A's in Oakland last night. Runner Sal Bando hit a Texas League single to right drawing both the firstbaseman and first base umpire away from the bag. Rightfielder Jim Northrup tried to catch Bando in a wide turn, with a throw to Freehan, but Bando slid back safely. (UPI Telephoto)

Tigers Down A's In Ninth, Lead At 8 As Orioles Lose

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit's Jim Northrup probably will be happy to bid the fair city of Oakland farewell when the Tigers finish their yearly business there tonight.

The Athletics certainly will be glad to see him go.

Northrup, who fought his way out of the American League's newest playground earlier this season after being floored with a fastball, had some more ups and downs Tuesday night before stroking the key hit in a 6-3 triumph over the A's.

The victory, coupled with Baltimore's 6-1 loss to the New York Yankees, sent the first-place Tigers eight games in front of the fading Orioles in the AL stretch run.

Elsewhere, Washington edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1, Cleveland trimmed California 7-2 and Boston beat Minnesota 4-1 in a five-inning, rain-shortened game.

Northrup committed a damaging error in the eighth inning as the Athletics rallied for three runs and a 3-2 edge. He then sent home the tying and deciding runs with a single in the ninth, sparking a four-run Tiger comeback.

The Detroit right fielder started the night on the downgrade, going hitless in his first three trips to the plate and stranding three base runners in the fifth. He singled to open the eighth—and was picked off first—but got back safely when John Donaldson's throw hit him in the head.

With the Tigers clinging to a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the eighth, Joe Keough laced a single to right. Allen Lewis raced home with the tying run and Sal Bando scored from first when Northrup booted the ball.

But the Tigers filled the bases again in the ninth and Northrup made amends for his miscue with a two-run single to right. Mickey Stanley scored the third run in the inning on a wild pitch and Northrup tallied the fourth on an infield roller, beating the throw to the plate with a sweeping slide.

Last May 26 at Oakland, Northrup was hit in the head by a Jack Aker pitch, but picked himself up and charged the Athletics' reliever, setting off a free-for-all that emptied both benches.

The Yankees caught up with Tom Phoebus, an old nemesis, in handing the Orioles their sixth setback in eight games. Phoebus, who took a 6-0 lifetime record against New York into the game, blanked the Yanks on one infield single until the sixth, when they knocked him out and grabbed a 2-1 lead on a walk and four singles.

Left-hander Fritz Peterson protected the margin until the ninth, when Roy White's bases-loaded triple and Robinson's second RBI single wrapped it up. Peterson, 9-9, was hit by a pitch in the ninth and Dooley Womack finished up.

Tim Cullen's two-run pinch single in the sixth overcame a 1-0 Chicago lead and Joe Coleman made it stand up with a four-hitter as the Senators climbed within one game of the ninth-place White Sox.

Multi-Year Pact Offered To Rigney

ANAHEIM (AP) — California Angels' owner Gene Autry has offered Manager Bill Rigney a multiyear contract and a chance to own stock in the American League club, informed sources said today.

Rigney, now wrapping up his 12th year as a major league manager and the senior pilot in the junior circuit, reportedly broke a golf date today to confer with a tax consultant and stock broker about the offer.

The 50-year-old manager has worked under one-year contracts with the Angels since their birth in the league's 1961 expansion. Before that, from 1956 to 1960, he managed the National League Giants both in New York and San Francisco.

Autry also reportedly assured Rigney that he is next-in-line to succeed Fred Haney as the club's general manager. Haney, 70, recently said he has given no thought to retirement.

Rigney has been the center of recent rumors that he will leave the Angels at the end of the season to manage the Giants, the Chicago White Sox or the American League expansion Kansas City Royals.

Drysdale Upsets Laver In U.S. Open Tennis

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — This may be the era of long-hairs and youth in tennis but a conservative, 33-year-old Australian with a neat $2 trim is the new favorite to collect the $16,000 first prize in the U.S. Open Championship.

"Now that Rod Laver is out of it, you have to pick Ken Rosewall," said Arthur Ashe, the new U.S. amateur champion, who might have spoken a few words in his own behalf after a straight-set victory over Roy Emerson of Australia.

Laver, winner at Wimbledon, king of the pros for the last three years and No. 1 seed here, was unceremoniously dumped from the competition Tuesday by Cliff Drysdale, a 29-year-old rookie pro from South Africa who hits a backhand the way Mickey Mantle swings a baseball bat.

The score was 4-6, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, 6-1. Laver's serving collapsed and he delivered 14 double-faults, five in the final set.

Rosewall, who was champion of the pros before the appearance of Laver, plays big Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y., today in one of the remaining four men's fourth round matches.

In the others, Pancho Gonzales, 40, the onetime king of the courts, faces second-seeded Tony Roche of Australia; Tom Okker, the giant-killer from The Netherlands, opposes Britain's Peter Curtis, and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., faces Nicola Pilic of Yugoslavia, who put out Charlie Pasarell.

Two more women will enter the semifinals. The favored Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the Wimbledon winner, plays Maryna Godwin of South Africa and Margaret Smith Court of Australia takes on Maria Bueno of Brazil, the girl she whipped last week for the U.S. amateur title. The winners meet for a finalist spot.

A pair of British girls clash in the other semifinal. They are second-seeded Ann Haydon Jones, who beat Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., 10-8, 6-3, and hard-serving Virginia Wade, victor over Judy Tegart of Australia 6-3, 6-2.

The elimination of Laver provided the tournament's big shock Tuesday but two others, Newcombe and Ralson, had narrow escapes.

Newcombe, seeded fourth, was three points from elimination once in a 3 hour, 45 minute match he won from bearded Torben Ulrich of Denmark 4-6, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, 6-1. Ralston was down to little Joaquin Loyo-Mayo of Mexico in a delayed third round match before winning 9-11, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5, 6-1.

Ashe looked tremendous in crushing Emerson, two-time U.S. and two-time Wimbledon champion, 6-4, 9-7, 6-3. His Davis Cup teammate, Clark Graebner, was almost equally impressive in whipping Gene Scott of New York 7-5, 6-0, 6-3.

Midland Post 481 Team Feted

Trophies and jackets were awarded at a baseball banquet held Sunday evening at Midland American Legion Post 481.

Trophy recipients were George Mraovic, most valuable player; Roscoe Ranelli, runs scored and best batting average; Mike Lacey, most runs batted in and most improved player, and Greg Braund, versatility.

Jackets were presented to Mike Vuckovich and Dick Stoffel of the 1968 team, and to Don Prentice and Ron Prentice, managers.

Robert Dick, commander, voiced a welcome.

Speakers for the occasion were Woodrow L. Pflugh, Beaver County Commander, and Patrick J. Cody, Commandant of the Pennsylvania Marine Corps League. Both are members of Post 481.

The presentations were made by Steven Crano, commander-elect.

Burton Sets Record

U.S. Swimming Team Strong For Olympics

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — George Haines doesn't think it will be too tough a job coaching the U.S. men's Olympic swimming team, for he says:

"Show them the door to the pool. They'll do the rest."

A record-shattering performance by UCLA's Mike Burton in the 1,500-meter freestyle, clipping 20 seconds off the world's previous best, wound up five days of Olympic trials Tuesday night.

"We have better depth in practically every event and the swimmers are more mature," said Haines, the Santa Clara Swim Club mentor who heads up the U.S. staff for the Olympics in Mexico City next month.

Burton, 21, a 5-foot-9 inch Bruin senior from Sacramento, Calif., swam the gruelling metric mile in 16 minutes 8.5 seconds.

Previous best ever had been the 16:28.1 by Mexico's Guillermo Echevarria last July. En route, Burton swam the fastest 800 meters ever recorded — 8:34.3.

Haines termed the Burton effort the best individual performance of the five-day trials in which six world records were broken and one tied, not including the Burton clocking at 800.

"The three victories by Charles Hickcox were the best over-all performance," the coach added.

"We thought we would be weak in the backstroke and breaststroke, but we saw some strength we didn't know we had."

John Kinsella, a 16-year-old high school athlete from Hinsdale, Ill., was second to Burton and furnished the only competition and that through only about the first 600 meters.

Kinsella, a strapping 6-2 and 190, finished second in 16:24.4 also bettering the world record. Yale's John Nelson took third at 16:40.8.

An indication of the U.S. strength came when a freestyle quartet of Zach Zorn, Steve Rerych, Ken Walsh and Don Schollander swam to a world record in the 400-meter relay the sixth international mark for the new Belmont Plaza Pool.

They were timed in 3:32.5, one-tenth better than Zorn, Walsh, Don Havens and Greg Charlton had swum at the Student Games at Tokyo last year.

Thirty-eight were named to the swimming and diving squad. A late addition to the diving list was Chuck Knorr of Cincinnati. The other five had qualified by finishing among the first three in last week's trials.

The first three in each of the swimming events qualified, plus the fourth man in the 100-meters and seven who earned places on the basis of aggregate points.

Olympic Ring Trials In Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Eighty-eight amateur fighters begin three days of competition today for 11 berths on the U.S. Olympic boxing team.

Participating are the best amateurs in the country, including national AAU, Golden Gloves and armed services champions.

Winners in each of the 11 weight classes will make up the Olympic team, which travels Saturday to Santa Fe, N. M., for training prior to the competitions in Mexico City in October.

Lester Hall Scores Ace At EPCC

Lester Hall of 235 Thompson Ave. carded his second "hole-in-one" yesterday afternoon at the East Palestine Country Club.

He used an eight iron on the 165-yard second hole while playing with the team of John Merical, Tooner Hargreaves and Jim Bell. Bell is from East Palestine, the others from East Liverpool.

MAC Weighs Tangerine Bowl Offer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mid-American Conference athletic directors are expected to discuss at a pre-season meeting here Thursday whether to enter the MAC football champion in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., next winter.

The MAC titlist reportedly has been invited to meet the Southern Conference winner in the Tangerine Bowl, which has dropped its college division affiliation and has signed a two-year contract with the Southern Conference, which will be the host.

The MAC directors' recommendations will be presented to the league's council of presidents, the governing body which rules on all conference matters.

John Kinsella, a 16-year-old high school athlete from Hinsdale, Ill., was second to Burton and furnished the only competition and that through only about the first 600 meters.

Kinsella, a strapping 6-2 and 190, finished second in 16:24.4 also bettering the world record. Yale's John Nelson took third at 16:40.8.

An indication of the U.S. strength came when a freestyle quartet of Zach Zorn, Steve Rerych, Ken Walsh and Don Schollander swam to a world record in the 400-meter relay the sixth international mark for the new Belmont Plaza Pool.

They were timed in 3:32.5, one-tenth better than Zorn, Walsh, Don Havens and Greg Charlton had swum at the Student Games at Tokyo last year.

Thirty-eight were named to the swimming and diving squad. A late addition to the diving list was Chuck Knorr of Cincinnati. The other five had qualified by finishing among the first three in last week's trials.

The first three in each of the swimming events qualified, plus the fourth man in the 100-meters and seven who earned places on the basis of aggregate points.

Lester Hall Scores Ace At EPCC

Lester Hall of 235 Thompson Ave. carded his second "hole-in-one" yesterday afternoon at the East Palestine Country Club.

He used an eight iron on the 165-yard second hole while playing with the team of John Merical, Tooner Hargreaves and Jim Bell. Bell is from East Palestine, the others from East Liverpool.

After parring the first hole and having a hole-in-one in the second, the team birdied every hole to finish 9 under par.

MAC Weighs Tangerine Bowl Offer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mid-American Conference athletic directors are expected to discuss at a pre-season meeting here Thursday whether to enter the MAC football champion in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., next winter.

The MAC titlist reportedly has been invited to meet the Southern Conference winner in the Tangerine Bowl, which has dropped its college division affiliation and has signed a two-year contract with the Southern Conference, which will be the host.

The MAC directors' recommendations will be presented to the league's council of presidents, the governing body which rules on all conference matters.

TED KWALICK is called the best tight end in collegiate football by Penn State coach Joe Paterno and the Nittany Lions are again expected to dominate the eastern gridiron scene. Kwalick and his teammates will be defending the Lambert Trophy, awarded for last year's 8-2 season record.

* * * * * *

Penn State Selected As East's Top Eleven

By TOMMY THOMAS
NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK — (NEA)—Penn State was three points away from perfection last season. Only a one - point loss to Navy and a two - point defeat by UCLA kept the Nittany Lions from an undefeated record. Still, coach Joe Paterno's crew won its last seven games, finished 8-2 and played Florida State to a standstill in the Gator Bowl.

There was also the Lambert Trophy, the award given to the outstanding team in the East. Paterno heads into his third year at State seeking his second straight symbol of eastern power.

One reason for the Lions' success was a 6-3, 222-pounder named Ted Kwalick. Before the 1967 season, Paterno said Kwalick was "potentially the best receiver we've had at Penn State and the equal of any in the country." Kwalick averaged 17 yards per reception last season and ran like a fullback after catching the ball. Paterno now says flatly:

"Ted Kwalick is the best tight end in the country."

Paterno's problem this year is finding someone to throw to the "best tight end." The interior offensive line likewise could create a problem, but Paterno shifted some players during spring drills in hopes of solving it. And he has seven regulars returning to each of the offensive and defensive units. State's strong defense is led by linebacker Denny Onkotz, All-East as a soph last season.

The only quarterback candidate with an experience is junior Chuck Burkhart, who has completed a total of six passes in varsity competition. Don Abbey, who starred as a soph at fullback in '67, and halfback Bob Campbell both suffered knee injuries and underwent operations. The return of these two at full strength, plus Kwalick, plus a fairly easy schedule should make Penn State the best in the East again in '68.

SYRACUSE: Coach Ben Schwartzwalder welcomes back — almost intact — the defense that was second nationally against rushing and fourth over-all, plus an injury-prone quarterback (Rich Panszyszyn) who could lead the Orangemen to another 8-2 year if he stays healthy. Center and guard are problem spots but could be filled by talented sophs. Syracuse's schedule is potentially light, and the Orangemen could really roll by getting past Michigan State in the opener. The last game of the season — against Penn State — will probably decide the Lambert Trophy.

—:—

ARMY: Coach Tom Cahill is stocked with strong backs but an aching line. Steve Lindell is a proven quarterback and Charley Jarvis is an All-American candidate at fullback. Tight end Gary Steele and tackle Bob Ivany are the only returnees in the offensive line, while tackle Steve Yarnell is the sole defensive line veteran. Cahill is hoping for help from last year's unbeaten plebe squad to beef things up. Thanks to a mediocre schedule, a winning season is likely and another 8-2 quite possible.

—:—

IVY LEAGUE: Brian Dowling and his Yale teammates may not be quite up to the caliber of the eastern independents but are the class of their own conference.

Canfield Schedules Wind-Ups

Only two more nights of racing remain on the 1968 Canfield Speedway schedule and both will be filled with championship events.

The late models will complete the year here Saturday night with a big 75-lap season championship race. The pilots will be battling for more than the big trophy, as the season point title also will be on the line.

The stock division drivers also are carded and they will duel in a 20-lap feature to wind up the 12-race program.

Then the following Saturday night, Sept. 14, the stocks will battle in a 50-lap season championship. In addition there will be the 1968 championship destruction derby. Drivers qualified for the demolition finals in preliminary events held throughout the season.

Columbus, Toledo Both Win In IL

By The Associated Press

There was no change Tuesday night in the battle for the International League lead, as front-running Toledo beat Buffalo 7-2 and Columbus downed Richmond 4-1 to stay 1½ games from the top.

In other games, Syracuse swept Rochester 1-0 and 3-2 while Louisville beat Jacksonville twice, 5-2 and 9-4.

Mike Derrick slammed his 11th homer and Ron Woods his 16th as Toledo romped over Buffalo on Les Cain's six - hit pitching.

A two-hitter by Ken Larsen carried Columbus past Richmond as Al Oliver broke a 1-1 tie with a two-run inside-the-park homer in the third inning.

Mercury reaches its greatest western elongation on July 11 and rises about an hour before the sun.

TED KWALICK is called the best tight end in collegiate football by Penn State coach Joe Paterno and the Nittany Lions are again expected to dominate the eastern gridiron scene. Kwalick and his teammates will be defending the Lambert Trophy, awarded for last year's 8-2 season record.

* * * * * *

Penn State Selected As East's Top Eleven

By TOMMY THOMAS
NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK — (NEA)—Penn State was three points away from perfection last season. Only a one - point loss to Navy and a two - point defeat by UCLA kept the Nittany Lions from an undefeated record. Still, coach Joe Paterno's crew won its last seven games, finished 8-2 and played Florida State to a standstill in the Gator Bowl.

There was also the Lambert Trophy, the award given to the outstanding team in the East. Paterno heads into his third year at State seeking his second straight symbol of eastern power.

One reason for the Lions' success was a 6-3, 222-pounder named Ted Kwalick. Before the 1967 season, Paterno said Kwalick was "potentially the best receiver we've had at Penn State and the equal of any in the country." Kwalick averaged 17 yards per reception last season and ran like a fullback after catching the ball. Paterno now says flatly:

"Ted Kwalick is the best tight end in the country."

Paterno's problem this year is finding someone to throw to the "best tight end." The interior offensive line likewise could create a problem, but Paterno shifted some players during spring drills in hopes of solving it. And he has seven regulars returning to each of the offensive and defensive units. State's strong defense is led by linebacker Denny Onkotz, All-East as a soph last season.

The only quarterback candidate with an experience is junior Chuck Burkhart, who has completed a total of six passes in varsity competition. Don Abbey, who starred as a soph at fullback in '67, and halfback Bob Campbell both suffered knee injuries and underwent operations. The return of these two at full strength, plus Kwalick, plus a fairly easy schedule should make Penn State the best in the East again in '68.

SYRACUSE: Coach Ben Schwartzwalder welcomes back — almost intact — the defense that was second nationally against rushing and fourth over-all, plus an injury-prone quarterback (Rich Panszyszyn) who could lead the Orangemen to another 8-2 year if he stays healthy. Center and guard are problem spots but could be filled by talented sophs. Syracuse's schedule is potentially light, and the Orangemen could really roll by getting past Michigan State in the opener. The last game of the season — against Penn State — will probably decide the Lambert Trophy.

—:—

ARMY: Coach Tom Cahill is stocked with strong backs but an aching line. Steve Lindell is a proven quarterback and Charley Jarvis is an All-American candidate at fullback. Tight end Gary Steele and tackle Bob Ivany are the only returnees in the offensive line, while tackle Steve Yarnell is the sole defensive line veteran. Cahill is hoping for help from last year's unbeaten plebe squad to beef things up. Thanks to a mediocre schedule, a winning season is likely and another 8-2 quite possible.

IVY LEAGUE: Brian Dowling and his Yale teammates may not be quite up to the caliber of the eastern independents but are the class of their own conference.

COLT SPEAKER. Frank Thomas, former National League star who played with the Pirates from 1951-58, will be the speaker at the Elks Lodge 258 dinner Saturday honoring the East Liverpool Colt League all-star team that finished fourth in the Colt World Series. The dinner begins at 7:30 and tickets may be purchased for $2.75 from any Elk or at Hamilton's' Barber Shop.

Canfield Schedules Wind-Ups

Only two more nights of racing remain on the 1968 Canfield Speedway schedule and both will be filled with championship events.

The late models will complete the year here Saturday night with a big 75-lap season championship race. The pilots will be battling for more than the big trophy, as the season point title also will be on the line.

The stock division drivers also are carded and they will duel in a 20-lap feature to wind up the 12-race program.

Then the following Saturday night, Sept. 14, the stocks will battle in a 50-lap season championship. In addition there will be the 1968 championship destruction derby. Drivers qualified for the demolition finals in preliminary events held throughout the season.

Columbus, Toledo Both Win In IL

By The Associated Press

There was no change Tuesday night in the battle for the International League lead, as front-running Toledo beat Buffalo 7-2 and Columbus downed Richmond 4-1 to stay 1½ games from the top.

In other games, Syracuse swept Rochester 1-0 and 3-2 while Louisville beat Jacksonville twice, 5-2 and 9-4.

Mike Derrick slammed his 11th homer and Ron Woods his 16th as Toledo romped over Buffalo on Les Cain's six - hit pitching.

A two-hitter by Ken Larsen carried Columbus past Richmond as Al Oliver broke a 1-1 tie with a two-run inside-the-park homer in the third inning.

Mercury reaches its greatest western elongation on July 11 and rises about an hour before the sun.

ANN LANDERS

No Light Compliments!

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 14-year-old girl who used to be very heavy. I got tired of being called Baby Hippo and Lardie and decided to do something about it.

I went on a diet and lost 25 pounds. The weight loss has improved my looks 100 per cent and now I hate to think about the days when I was fat. So why do people keep reminding me?

Grownups who haven't seen me in a long time say, "My, but you look SO much better!" Or, "How much weight did you lose altogether?" It embarrasses me to death when a person ends a conversation with, "Keep up the good work," or some dumb thing like that. I intend to keep up the good work and I don't need to be told.

Please print this letter for all ex-fatties and tell people we don't want to be reminded of the past. It makes us ashamed and embarrassed. — TOUCHY GIRL.

Dear Girl: You might feel a little less touchy after reading the next letter:

Weighty Problem

Dear Ann: I used to be quite heavy. Last spring my doctor put me on a diet and I lost 22 pounds. I look 10 years younger and have more energy now than I have had in years.

Yesterday I attended a church social and saw several women I had not seen since May. Not a single person mentioned a word about my weight loss. I know they must have noticed it because I wear a size 12 now instead of a 16, and these women are not blind.

Why are some folks so mean? I went to that meeting feeling like a million dollars and came home feeling like 2 cents. — SATISFACTION DENIED.

Dear Sat: One woman's compliment is the next woman's insult. Some days it doesn't pay to get out of bed in the morning.

Dividing Line

Dear Ann: How can parents unspoil a couple of spoiled brats?

We made the mistake of listening to too many so-called experts on child rearing. We let our kids express themselves to the point where now we're afraid to express OURSELVES for fear of being told off.

My husband and I are intelligent people who have gone by the book and lost our own common sense. Our children have no respect for authority. They ignore us and do as they please. They act as if the world is divided into two warring factions — parents and children.

Is it ever too late to start? If not, how do we go about getting control of kids who are out of control? Please answer this letter in the paper. I'm sure there are thousands of equally bewildered parents who would appreciate some help. — BESIDE OURSELVES.

Dear Beside: How old are the spoled brats? Are they 3 and 5, 8 and 11, or 15 and 17? Your question is comparable to asking a physician if a disease is curable without telling him how long you've had it.

A spoiled brat, like a skin rash, is easier to get under control if you catch it in the early stages.

If your kids are 12 years of ago or older you're going to need some outside help. And don't expect magic. It doesn't always work. But it's worth the try.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Mishap Hurts Man, Woman On W. 8th St.

Two drivers were taken to City Hospital Tuesday afternoon after a spectacular crash in West End in which a halted auto was rammed from the rear and driven 165 feet, police reported.

The collision at 1:17 on W. 8th St. near Westgate School involved a 1959 two - door sedan driven by Miss Ann P. Johnston of 307 W. 5th St. and a 1968 model station wagon operated by Walter Joseph Potts, 48, of 1498 Mick Rd., Wellsville, officers said. Both drivers were taken to the hospital by a passerby.

Miss Johnston, an assistant principal at Westgate School, suffered contusions and abrasions of the left leg and back. She was treated and released. Potts was examined and released.

Miss Johnston said she was in the left lane, signaling a left turn, when her halted car was hit from the rear by Potts' auto. Potts told police he was traveling west in the right - hand lane when he saw a truck coming off the Wellsville Ramp from the Freeway onto W. 8th St. Potts told police he thought the truck "might not sop" before pulling onto W. 8th, so he turned from the right - hand lane into the left - hand lane, striking the Johnston auto.

Potts was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. The collision damaged the entire front end of Potts' car and the rear and trunk of the Johnston car, which is registered to James and Margaret O'Reilly of the same W. 5th St. address.

A local man was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol as an aftermath of another mishap Tuesday at 2:11 p.m. in Pleasant Alley, 28 feet east of Apple Alley, police said.

Pat Everett Smith, 33, of 240 Thompson Ave. was cited after a collision between his 1967 two-door sedan and a 1966 station wagon operated by Martin Gluchow, 60, of 3130 St. Clair Ave.

Gluchow told police he had backed his car out of a parking space at the Salvation Army building when it stalled. Then, he said, his car was hit by Smith's. Smith reported he was traveling west in Pleasant Alley when Gluchow's car backed into his.

Smith was examined and released at City Hospital.

Children Kept Out Of School In Bus Dispute

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—Angry parents refused to send their children to school Tuesday because the Geneva School Board had canceled the bus service for junior and senior high pupils.

Some 500 children from rural areas missed classes but officials said the majority of the system's 3,324 pupils attended.

The bus service was curtailed when a 3.3-mill levy submitted last May and June was defeated. The school board said it now faces a $50,000 deficit at the end of the year.

Some of the pupils travel as much as 20 miles a day to school and the parents claim the board is being vindictive because of the levy defeats.

School Supt. Kenneth H. Jones said the board will meet Monday night to consider the situation and he would recommend resubmitting the levy Nov. 5.

Retired Episcopal Bishop Rev. Lichtenberger Dies

BETHEL, Vt. (AP) — The retired presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church of the United States, the Rt. Rev. Arthur C. Lichtenberger, died at his summer home Tuesday. He was 68.

He was an early fighter of racial discrimination, and he believed in stressing the similarities, not the differences, of Christian churches. He was elected 21st presiding bishop on Oct. 11, 1958.

Bishop Lichtenberger served until 1964 when he was forced to resign because of Parkinson's disease which had affected his speech. Since that time he had been a visiting professor at the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass.

In 1961 he met with Pope John XXIII for the first such meeting between a Pope and presiding bishop of the U.S. Protestant Episcopal Church. Bishop Lichtenberger said later, "We did not discuss our differences. That would have been quite beside the point."

He took a strong stand on racial issues.

"A class church is not a church," he said. "Only when the church is serving all people, when it appeals to everyone, is it doing what it should. This is the kind of church we must be, are becoming, and in many areas already are."

Bishop Lichtenberger was a relaxed and approachable person who became riled on occasion. He was known to murmur a resigned "oh, hell" when an impatient motorist sounded a horn behind him when traffic ahead was blocked.

He was born in Oshkosh, Wis., Jan. 8, 1900. His father was a grocer and, for a time, city council president. The future bishop played baseball and football in high school and entered the University of Wisconsin intending to become a lawyer.

Dissatisfied, he quit college to work for the Waterloo, Iowa, Telephone Co. He became interested in the ministry through his future father-in-law, the Rev. Martin Tate, a Waterloo Episcopal clergyman.

Lichtenberger was graduated from Kenyon College in Ohio and the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge. He married Florence Tate midway through his studies at Cambridge.

They went to China where he taught at St. Paul's Divinity School in Wuchang. He was ordained there in 1926. He later served parishes in the Midwest, became rector of St. Paul's Church in Brookline, Mass., in 1933 and dean of Trinity Cathedral in Newark, N.J., in 1941.

He served as bishop of the diocese of Missouri from 1951 until elected as presiding bishop. He wrote several books including "Day is at Hand."

High Court Ruling Sought To Place Wallace On Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court is being asked to rule on George C. Wallace's fight to get his name on Ohio's Nov. 5 general election ballot.

David J. Young, attorney for the Ohio Wallace for President Committee, gave notice of appeal in U.S. District Court here Tuesday and said he expected to file the appeal in Washington today.

Supporters of the former Alabama governor seek to overturn a federal court ruling which denied ballot position to the American Independent Party candidate, but which ordered the state to provide ballot space for write-ins.

The Supreme Court appeal will be directed to Associate Justice Potter Stewart and will request an order directing state officials to put Wallace's name on the ballot until the appeal can be decided in the full court.

Young said the motion will ask that Wallace's name be posted in a manner to allow covering if the appeal fails.

The Columbus attorney said he would ask the court to advance the case for hearing as soon as possible. The court is in summer recess and will reconvene in early October.

Young said he expected Stewart to rule on the "temporary relief" motion within a week.

A three - judge federal court panel denied in a split-decision issued last Thursday the official status of Wallace's party because "it does not possess the attributes of a traditional politisal party."

U.S. Circuit Judge Lester Cecil and U.S. District Judge Carl A. Weinmann comprised the majority, while Judge Joseph P Kinneary wrote a dissenting opinion calling for putting Wallace's name on the fall ballot.

Wallace people claim the write-in procedure violates the secrecy of the ballot because it requires the assistance of precinct officials.

They contend that because Ohio has three different kind of voting machines and two forms of paper ballots a statewide voter education drive would be necessary.

Young said the three - judge panel held that certain disputed election laws were unconsitutional but did not prescribe adequate relief, namely ballot position.

7 Get 'Early' Ballots For 3 School Levies

Seven persons have obtained absentee and disabled voters' ballots to date for a special election Sept. 17 in the East Liverpool School District on three levies totalling 19 mills, the Columbiana County Election Board reported today.

The district will vote on a new 7-mill levy and renewal of 11-mill and 1-mill propositions. The ballots may be obtained until Sept. 12 at 4 p. m.

No "early" ballots have been issued for the special election Sept. 10 in the Beaver Local School District on a $485,000 bond issue. The issue would provide for additions to Beaver Local High School and the Beaver Local and West Point Public Schools. The Beaver Local ballots may be obtained until Thursday at 4 p.m.

Kiwanis Club At Wellsville Hears Chief

Wellsville Police Chief John Hephner spoke during the Wellsville Kiwanis Club meeting at noon Tuesday at Meade's Restaurant.

He discussed several facets of poliec work, particularly pointing to changes in recent years in court procedure and the handling of cases that come to the department.

He called attention to the fact that less and less cases are being heard locally in mayor's court because of jurisdictional changes. Any case involving mre than $50 or imprisonment, may be heard by jury if requested, winding up in Lisbon.

Juvenile case, Hephner said, are handled locally if possible. If it is a first offense, and the damages are met, it is kept local. If it is more than the first offense, it is referred to the Juvenile Court for action, he explained.

Hephner answered questions by the group which led to a discussion of "police brutality" on a nationwide basis.

A board of directors meeting will be held Friday noon at Meade's, William Bush announced.

Ruling Sought On Youngstown Teacher Boost

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Youngstown Board of Education said Tuesday it will ask the Mahoning County Common Pleas Court to rule on whether it can approve pay increases for teachers without having the money to back them up.

Earlier the board approved 4-3 a salary increase and paid hospitalization program for teachers, averting a threatened boycott of classes when schools open today.

But the board said it would have to submit the decision to the court because the iscreases would cost $1.5 million per year and there is not enough money to cover the raises.

If the court says the raises are illegal they will have to be rescinded, the board added.

The board has said that unless voters approve a 12 - mill levy Nov. 5 the school year may end Dec. 1.

At Tuesday's meeting it raised starting salaries for teachers from $5,800 to $6,250. The Youngstown Education Association had asked for an $800 increase in the starting salary.

Salary Boost Averts Toledo Teacher Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A teachers strike was averted here Tuesday when the board of education agreed to an across-the-board salary increase.

The new agreement calls for increasing starting salaries from $5,900 to $7,000, with other teachers and professional personnel receiving proportionate wage hikes.

The salary increases are contingent, however, upon voter approval of a school levy at an election to be held this fall.

Jefferson County Advances Plans For Water Lines

STEUBENVILLE — Jefferson County Commissioner Michael Blischak has announced plans are proceeding for providing new water lines in the Hammondsville, Irondale and Sugar Grove Ridge area.

Discussions have been held with Cerrone & Vaughn Co. of Wheeling, consulting engineers, and special bond counsel for the project and means of financing it.

Commissioners are expected to approve a formal resolution of necessity and set a public hearing on the proposal. If supported, the project will be advertised for bids and construction started.

Blishak reported 77 Hammondsville area residents have signed a petition for water.

He said the construction will be financed by general obligation self - supporting bonds rather than issuing mortgage revenue bonds.

The present water supply of the Pleasant Hill, Knoxville, Empire and New Somerset sources would be utilized, with mains laid from New Somerset north along Route 213 to the Hammondsville district.

Irondale's present water supply has not been adequate to the growing needs of the area, it was explained.

Nurse Is Graduated In Rites At Syracuse

Miss Bonnie Lee Laughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Laughlin of Meadowbrook Estates, Industry, was graduated Friday from the Crouse-Irving Hospital School of Nursing at Syracuse, N. Y.

Her parents and brother, Robert Laughlin Jr., attended the commencement.

John Milton authored the famed lines "They also serve who only stand and wait."

About 13,000 quarts of blood are pumped through one's body each day.

ANN LANDERS

No Light Compliments!

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 14-year-old girl who used to be very heavy. I got tired of being called Baby Hippo and Lardie and decided to do something about it.

I went on a diet and lost 25 pounds. The weight loss has improved my looks 100 per cent and now I hate to think about the days when I was fat. So why do people keep reminding me?

Grownups who haven't seen me in a long time say, "My, but you look SO much better!" Or, "How much weight did you lose altogether?" It embarrasses me to death when a person ends a conversation with, "Keep up the good work," or some dumb thing like that. I intend to keep up the good work and I don't need to be told.

Please print this letter for all ex-fatties and tell people we don't want to be reminded of the past. It makes us ashamed and embarrassed. — TOUCHY GIRL.

Dear Girl: You might feel a little less touchy after reading the next letter:

-:-

Weighty Problem

Dear Ann: I used to be quite heavy. Last spring my doctor put me on a diet and I lost 22 pounds. I look 10 years younger and have more energy now than I have had in years.

Yesterday I attended a church social and saw several women I had not seen since May. Not a single person mentioned a word about my weight loss. I know they must have noticed it because I wear a size 12 now instead of a 16, and these women are not blind.

Why are some folks so mean? I went to that meeting feeling like a million dollars and came home feeling like 2 cents. — SATISFACTION DENIED.

Dear Sat: One woman's compliment is the next woman's insult. Some days it doesn't pay to get out of bed in the morning.

-:-

Dividing Line

Dear Ann: How can parents unspoil a couple of spoiled brats?

We made the mistake of listening to too many so-called experts on child rearing. We let our kids express themselves to the point where now we're afraid to express OURSELVES for fear of being told off.

My husband and I are intelligent people who have gone by the book and lost our own common sense. Our children have no respect for authority. They ignore us and do as they please. They act as if the world is divided into two warring factions — parents and children.

Is it ever too late to start? If not, how do we go about getting control of kids who are out of control? Please answer this letter in the paper. I'm sure there are thousands of equally bewildered parents who would appreciate some help. — BESIDE OURSELVES.

Dear Beside: How old are the spoled brats? Are they 3 and 5, 8 and 11, or 15 and 17? Your question is comparable to asking a physician if a disease is curable without telling him how long you've had it.

A spoiled brat, like a skin rash, is easier to get under control if you catch it in the early stages.

If your kids are 12 years of ago or older you're going to need some outside help. And don't expect magic. It doesn't always work. But it's worth the try.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Mishap Hurts Man, Woman On W. 8th St.

Two drivers were taken to City Hospital Tuesday afternoon after a spectacular crash in West End in which a halted auto was rammed from the rear and driven 165 feet, police reported.

The collision at 1:17 on W. 8th St. near Westgate School involved a 1959 two - door sedan driven by Miss Ann P. Johnston of 307 W. 5th St. and a 1968 model station wagon operated by Walter Joseph Potts, 48, of 1498 Mick Rd., Wellsville, officers said. Both drivers were taken to the hospital by a passerby.

Miss Johnston, an assistant principal at Westgate School, suffered contusions and abrasions of the left leg and back. She was treated and released. Potts was examined and released.

Miss Johnston said she was in the left lane, signaling a left turn, when her halted car was hit from the rear by Potts' auto. Potts told police he was traveling west in the right - hand lane when he saw a truck coming off the Wellsville Ramp from the Freeway onto W. 8th St. Potts told police he thought the truck "might not sop" before pulling onto W. 8th, so he turned from the right - hand lane into the left - hand lane, striking the Johnston auto.

Potts was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. The collision damaged the entire front end of Potts' car and the rear and trunk of the Johnston car, which is registered to James and Margaret O'Reilly of the same W. 5th St. address.

A local man was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol as an aftermath of another mishap Tuesday at 2:11 p.m. in Pleasant Alley, 28 feet east of Apple Alley, police said.

Pat Everett Smith, 33, of 246 Thompson Ave. was cited after a collision between his 1967 two-door sedan and a 1966 station wagon operated by Martin Gluchow, 60, of 3130 St. Clair Ave.

Gluchow told police he had backed his car out of a parking space at the Salvation Army building when it stalled. Then, he said, his car was hit by Smith's. Smith reported he was traveling west in Pleasant Alley when Gluchow's car backed into his.

Smith was examined and released at City Hospital.

7 Get 'Early' Ballots For 3 School Levies

Seven persons have obtained absentee and disabled voters' ballots to date for a special election Sept. 17 in the East Liverpool School District on three levies totalling 19 mills, the Columbiana County Election Board reported today.

The district will vote on a new 7-mill levy and renewal of 11-mill and 1-mill propositions. The ballots may be obtained until Sept. 12 at 4 p. m.

No "early" ballots have been issued for the special election Sept. 10 in the Beaver Local School District on a $485,000 bond issue. The issue would provide for additions to Beaver Local High School and the Beaver Local and West Point Public Schools. The Beaver Local ballots may be obtained until Thursday at 4 p.m.

At Tuesday's meeting it raised starting salaries for teachers from $5,800 to $6,250. The Youngstown Education Association had asked for an $800 increase in the starting salary.

Salary Boost Averts Toledo Teacher Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A teachers strike was averted here Tuesday when the board of education agreed to an across-the-board salary increase.

The new agreement calls for increasing starting salaries from $5,900 to $7,000, with other teachers and professional personnel receiving proportionate wage hikes.

The salary increases are contingent, however, upon voter approval of a school levy at an election to be held this fall.

Jefferson County Advances Plans For Water Lines

STEUBENVILLE — Jefferson County Commissioner Michael Blischak has announced plans are proceeding for providing new water lines in the Hammondsville, Irondale and Sugar Grove Ridge area.

Discussions have been held with Cerrone & Vaughn Co. of Wheeling, consulting engineers, and special bond counsel for the project and means of financing it.

Commissioners are expected to approve a formal resolution of necessity and set a public hearing on the proposal. If supported, the project will be advertised for bids and construction started.

Blishak reported 77 Hammondsville area residents have signed a petition for water.

He said the construction will be financed by general obligation self - supporting bonds rather than issuing mortgage revenue bonds.

The present water supply of the Pleasant Hill, Knoxville, Empire and New Somerset sources would be utilized, with mains laid from New Somerset north along Route 213 to the Hammondsville district.

Irondale's present water supply has not been adequate to the growing needs of the area, it was explained.

we care

A&P

"a bit more" is what makes our white bread better!

We're talking of course about Jane Parker White Bread.

We use a bit more milk than we have to, to give you a richer loaf.

We never use milk substitutes.

We use a bit more shortening than we have to, to give you a softer loaf . . . the way you like it.

We use a bit more sugar than we have to, to give Jane Parker more flavor.

We do one more thing that hardly anybody does. We date our Jane Parker White Bread. It's the only absolute guarantee of freshness you have . . . unless you bake your own.

And speaking of guarantees, we unconditionally guarantee you'll like it.

So, you see, we really do do "a bit more." Since Jane Parker Bread is sold only at A&P, shouldn't A&P be your store?

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Charley Weaver Knows His Place

Cliff Arquette's Charley Weaver character has been TV's favorite guest for at least 15 years, and Cliff says the secret to his success is that he never tops the star of the show.

Hal Humphrey

"My Dad taught me this. He and my mother were in vaudeville, and he always told me, 'Son, respect the guy in the spotlight — it's his show,' and I always have," says Cliff.

-:-

IT ISN'T EASY for Cliff to lie back, either. He has one of the quickest wits in show business and can, when he wants, steal a scene with a raised eyebrow.

In addition to his regular chair on NBC's "Hollywood Squares" game show, Cliff (as Charley) joins Jonathan Winters on CBS this season. They'll do a five-minute spot each week in which Winters plays Jack Armstrong, All-American Boy. Charley (Cliff) will be "Jack's" uncle.

"I'm hoping the producers will let us wing it a bit. Johnny is great at this, and TV needs it. Most of the comedy on TV today has lost its spontaneity," Cliff claims, and is so right.

-:-

HE AND WINTERS are old friends from the Jack Paar "Tonight" show, where Cliff was a regular for nearly three years and Winters was a frequent guest. Since Johnny Carson took over the "Tonight" stint, Cliff has been on it when Bob Newhart and Bob Baker have guest-hosted, but never with Carson himself.

"I used to sub for Carson on his "Who Do You Trust?" show, but he's never asked me on the 'Tonight' show for some reason," says Cliff, who'd obviously like to know why.

When he wants to, Cliff can be mean. Two summers ago he starred as Grandpa in a 10-week road tour of "You Can't Take It With You." It was his first experience on the dramatic stage, and the rest of the cast resented "this bird from radio and TV."

-:-

"THEY WERE MAKING it awfully tough, until one night I really let 'em have it. I threw in wild lines and business and generally made life miserable for them. After the show, I told them that was only a sample. They all apologized, and we got along time for the rest of the tour," recalls Cliff.

As a radio character actor, Cliff was one of the busiest. At one time he had roles in 13 shows. Before leaving Chicago in those days, he was the Old Timer for Fibber McGee & Molly. When he came to Hollywood Cliff played Gracie Allen's uncle and Jack Benny's father.

"The Benny job was the strangest. I'd get paid a different fee each time — anywhere from $250 to $1,000. When I got that $1,000 check one week, I went to the producer and told him there must be some mistake, but I was assured it was no mistake, that Mr. Benny was just particularly pleased with what I'd done that week," Cliff recalls.

CLIFF AND another radio actor, Dave Willock, had a local TV show in Los Angeles in 1950. They wrote and produced it themselves. Cliff played Charley Weaver, a character he'd been developing on radio, and Dave was a young friend with a touch of larceny in his heart.

It was a low-key but funny half hour, and Cary Grant became such a fan that he insisted on appearing one night as a bum (Charley lived next to the railroad yard). It's the only time Grant has ever appeared "live" on TV.

A great hobby-lover, Cliff presently has an art school in San Fernando Valley with Fritz Willis, an artist who left painting calendar nudes for more serious art. They have 45 students, and Cliff takes lessons, too.

FOR 12 YEARS, Cliff has had the Charley Weaver American Museum of the Civil War in Gettysburg, Pa., which houses his own collection of carved miniature soldiers.

Cliff isn't married (I'm a two-time loser") and is 62 now. He has one son who's an actor. But he still gets those marvelous letters from "Mama" in Mt. Idy where Elsie Krack, Leonard Bo, Byron Ogg, Gomar Cool and other friends live.

"Those letters are my ace in the hole when Charley runs out of something to say," reports Cliff, but that isn't often.

Daily Pattern

4570

By ANNE ADAMS

Look! The tunic — fashion's exciting new star — slides over slim skirt or slacks to create two different, equally devastating outfits. Choose a knit, diagonal wool, rayon.

Printed Pattern 4570: Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. See pattern for yardages.

Send 65 cents in coins for this pattern to Anne Adams in care of the East Liverpool Review, 49 Pattern Dept., 343 W. 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly your name, address, size and the style number. Add 15 cents for each pattern for first-class mailing and special handling.

Construction Permits Gain

Thanks to a $1,738,000 high-rise apartment for the elderly on which construction has started in West End, East Liverpool's building permits soared to $1,763,550 during August.

The Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority is erecting the 130-unit complex with a federally - guaranteed loan. The 11 additional permits issued last month called for work estimated to cost a total of $22,550, according to Marvin Wooley, zoning and building inspection. July permits totaled $7,650.

The other permits, the persons to whom they were issued, the work authorized and the estimated cost of each job:

American Legion Post 4, to replace windows in building on Market St., $250; David McEwen, to erect a frame garage on St. Clair Ave., $2,500; Potters Lumber Co., to repair fire damage at home of L. W. Smith Jr. of St. Clair Ave., $10,000; James Walker, to erect addition to home on May St., $4,500.

St. Aloysius Catholic Church, to erect garage on W. 5th St., $1,500; H. L. Brown, to remodel office building on Elizabeth St., $1,000; Orin Allison, to erect frame garage on S. Surry Rd., $1,200; Herman Potts, to place siding on house at 315 W. 9th St., $500; Michael Gacesa, to install siding on home at 1442 Pennsylvania Ave., $1,000, and Mrs. Ida Herron, to install a porch on home at 2128 Ohio Ave., $1,000.

Israel Probing Egyptian Fishing Boats Captured

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israeli navy is investigating two Egyptian fishing boats which it captured in Israeli territorial waters six days ago, an army spokesman announced today.

He said the two Arab boats entered Israeli waters on Aug. 29 "close to the Sinai area," the Egyptian desert east of the Suez Canal which Israel forces occupied in the 1967 war.

The spokesman said the two boats were escorted to an Israeli port. He refused to say how many Egyptians were captured with the boats.

The army also announced another Israeli-Jordanian duel in the North Beisan Valley, where shooting across the border is an almost daily occurrence.

A spokesman said the Jordanians fired first with light arms just before dawn, and the exchange lasted 50 minutes. Almost immediately after, he continued, the Jordanians opened up again with light arms and mortars in the North Jordan valley, and a 10-minute exchange followed.

No Israeli casualties were reported.

Man, 57, Being Held In Ambush Slaying

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Detectives placed a 57-year-old man in custody Tuesday in connection with the ambush slaying of a Springfield machinist. But no charges were filed immediately.

Police said Elmo Pillion, 37, was shot by a small caliber weapon early Tuesday as he left his home for work. He was found slumped over the front seat of his car.

Homemakers To Join Rally In Michigan

LISBON — Nineteen Columbiana County homemakers, including seven from East Liverpool and one from Wellsville, will attend the triennial conference of Associated Country Women of the World Thursday at East Lansing, Mich.

They will travel by bus with 22 Mahoning County homemakers to participate in the U.S.A. Day of the conference.

The chartered bus will stop in Toledo on the return trip Friday so the women can tour the harbor. Mrs. Beulah Converse of Leetonia RD, Mahoning County extension agent for home economics, will be tour leader.

County women in the party follow, by communities:

East Liverpool — Mrs. Allen Maple, Mrs. Dorothy Eddy, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. George Cornwell, Mrs. Millan Jacob, Mrs. Earl Broadbent, Mrs. Ethyl Stroble and Mrs. Ann Salter. Wellsville — Mrs. Vaughn McMorrow.

Lisbon — Mrs. Earl Hamilton, Mrs. Mary Ketchum and Mrs. Walter Rice. New Waterford — Mrs. Harry George, Mrs. Henry Keck. East Palestine — Mrs. Kenneth J. Stump. Columbiana — Mrs. Ann Reash, Mrs. Mary Bell. Leetonia—Mrs. Norman Kornbau. Hanoverton — Mrs. Jane Thompson.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Charley Weaver Knows His Place

Cliff Arquette's Charley Weaver character has been TV's favorite guest for at least 15 years, and Cliff says the secret to his success is that he never tops the star of the show.

Hal Humphrey

"My Dad taught me this. He and my mother were in vaudeville, and he always told me, 'Son, respect the guy in the spotlight — it's his show,' and I always have," says Cliff.

-:-

IT ISN'T EASY for Cliff to lie back, either. He has one of the quickest wits in show business and can, when he wants, steal a scene with a raised eyebrow.

In addition to his regular chair on NBC's "Hollywood Squares" game show, Cliff (as Charley) joins Jonathan Winters on CBS this season. They'll do a five-minute spot each week in which Winters plays Jack Armstrong, All-American Boy. Charley (Cliff) will be "Jack's" uncle.

"I'm hoping the producers will let us wing it a bit. Johnny is great at this, and TV needs it. Most of the comedy on TV today has lost its spontaneity," Cliff claims, and is so right.

HE AND WINTERS are old friends from the Jack Paar "Tonight" show, where Cliff was a regular for nearly three years and Winters was a frequent guest. Since Johnny Carson took over the "Tonight" stint, Cliff has been on it when Bob Newhart and Bob Baker have guest-hosted, but never with Carson himself.

"I used to sub for Carson on his 'Who Do You Trust?' show, but he's never asked me on the 'Tonight' show for some reason," says Cliff, who'd obviously like to know why.

When he wants to, Cliff can be mean. Two summers ago he starred as Grandpa in a 10-week road tour of "You Can't Take It With You." It was his first experience on the dramatic stage, and the rest of the cast resented "this bird from radio and TV."

-:-

"THEY WERE MAKING it awfully tough, until one night I really let 'em have it. I threw in wild lines and business and generally made life miserable for them. After the show, I told them that was only a sample. They all apologized, and we got along fine for the rest of the tour," recalls Cliff.

As a radio character actor, Cliff was one of the busiest. At one time he had roles in 13 shows. Before leaving Chicago in those days, he was the Old Timer for Fibber McGee & Molly. When he came to Hollywood Cliff played Gracie Allen's uncle and Jack Benny's father.

"The Benny job was the strangest. I'd get paid a different fee each time — anywhere from $250 to $1,000. When I got that $1,000 check one week, I went to the producer and told him there must be some mistake, but I was assured it was no mistake, that Mr. Benny was just particularly pleased with what I'd done that week," Cliff recalls.

CLIFF AND another radio actor, Dave Willock, had a local TV show in Los Angeles in 1950. They wrote and produced it themselves. Cliff played Charley Weaver, a character he'd been developing on radio, and Dave was a young friend with a touch of larceny in his heart.

It was a low-key but funny half hour, and Cary Grant became such a fan that he insisted on appearing one night as a bum (Charley lived next to the railroad yard). It's the only time Grant has ever appeared "live" on TV.

A great hobby-lover, Cliff presently has an art school in San Fernando Valley with Fritz Willis, an artist who left painting calendar nudes for more serious art. They have 45 students, and Cliff takes lessons, too.

FOR 12 YEARS, Cliff has had the Charley Weaver American Museum of the Civil War in Gettysburg, Pa., which houses his own collection of carved miniature soldiers.

Cliff isn't married (I'm a two-time loser") and is 62 now. He has one son who's an actor. But he still gets those marvelous letters from "Mama" in Mt. Idy where Elsie Krack, Leonard Bo, Byron Ogg, Gomar Cool and other friends live.

"Those letters are my ace in the hole when Charley runs out of something to say," reports Cliff, but that isn't often.

Daily Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS

Look! The tunic — fashion's exciting new star — slides over slim skirt or slacks to create two different, equally devastating outfits. Choose a knit, diagonal wool, rayon.

Printed Pattern 4570: Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. See pattern for yardages.

Send 65 cents in coins for this pattern to Anne Adams in care of the East Liverpool Review, 49 Pattern Dept., 343 W. 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly your name, address, size and the style number. Add 15 cents for each pattern for first-class mailing and special handling.

Construction Permits Gain

Thanks to a $1,738,000 high-rise apartment for the elderly on which construction has started in West End, East Liverpool's building permits soared to $1,763,550 during August.

The Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority is erecting the 130-unit complex with a federally - guaranteed loan. The 11 additional permits issued last month called for work estimated to cost a total of $22,550, according to Marvin Wooley, zoning and building inspection. July permits totaled $7,650.

The other permits, the persons to whom they were issued, the work authorized and the estimated cost of each job:

American Legion Post 4, to replace windows in building on Market St., $250; David McEwen, to erect a frame garage on St. Clair Ave., $2,500; Potters Lumber Co., to repair fire damage at home of L. W. Smith Jr. of St. Clair Ave., $10,000; James Walker, to erect addition to home on May St., $4,500.

St. Aloysius Catholic Church, to erect garage on W. 5th St., $1,500; H. L. Brown, to remodel office building on Elizabeth St., $1,000; Orin Allison, to erect frame garage on S. Surry Rd., $1,200; Herman Potts, to place siding on house at 315 W. 9th St., $500; Michael Gacesa, to install siding on home at 1442 Pennsylvania Ave., $1,000, and Mrs. Ida Herron, to install a porch on home at 2128 Ohio Ave., $1,000.

Israel Probing Egyptian Fishing Boats Captured

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israeli navy is investigating two Egyptian fishing boats which it captured in Israeli territorial waters six days ago, an army spokesman announced today.

He said the two Arab boats entered Israeli waters on Aug. 29 "close to the Sinai area," the Egyptian desert east of the Suez Canal which Israel forces occupied in the 1967 war.

The spokesman said the two boats were escorted to an Israeli port. He refused to say how many Egyptians were captured with the boats.

The army also announced another Israeli-Jordanian duel in the North Beisan Valley, where shooting across the border is an almost daily occurrence.

A spokesman said the Jordanians fired first with light arms just before dawn, and the exchange lasted 50 minutes. Almost immediately after, he continued, the Jordanians opened up again with light arms and mortars in the North Jordan valley, and a 10-minute exchange followed.

No Israeli casualties were reported.

Man, 57, Being Held In Ambush Slaying

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)— Detectives placed a 57-year-old man in custody Tuesday in connection with the ambush slaying of a Springfield machinist. But no charges were filed immediately.

Police said Elmo Pillion, 37, was shot by a small caliber weapon early Tuesday as he left his home for work. He was found slumped over the front seat of his car.

Homemakers To Join Rally In Michigan

LISBON — Nineteen Columbiana County homemakers, including seven from East Liverpool and one from Wellsville, will attend the triennial conference of Associated Country Women of the World Thursday at East Lansing, Mich.

They will travel by bus with 22 Mahoning County homemakers to participate in the U.S.A. Day of the conference.

The chartered bus will stop in Toledo on the return trip Friday so the women can tour the harbor. Mrs. Beulah Converse of Leetonia RD, Mahoning County extension agent for home economics, will be tour leader.

County women in the party follow, by communities:

East Liverpool — Mrs. Allen Maple, Mrs. Dorothy Eddy, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. George Cornwell, Mrs. Millan Jacob, Mrs. Earl Broadbent, Mrs. Ethyl Stroble and Mrs. Ann Salter. Wellsville — Mrs. Vaughn McMorrow.

Lisbon — Mrs. Earl Hamilton, Mrs. Mary Ketchum and Mrs. Walter Rice. New Waterford — Mrs. Harry George, Mrs. Henry Keck. East Palestine — Mrs. Kenneth J. Stump. Columbiana — Mrs. Ann Reash, Mrs. Mary Bell. Leetonia— Mrs. Norman Kornbau. Hanoverton — Mrs. Jane Thompson.

A Junior Editors Quiz About GHOSTS

QUESTION: Are ghosts real?

* * *

ANSWER: The world must have been a spooky place indeed in ancient times before men began to understand the natural causes of things. The ancients thought there were strange, supernatural spirits or beings everywhere. If you heard rustling sounds at night, your imagination would create some eerie being to account for it. Today, we would realize it was only a mouse or something equally reasonable. There are people, even today, especially in certain parts of the world, who still insist there are such things as ghosts, thinking them to be the unhappy spirits of people who have passed on. Believers in this kind of thing claim a ghost can walk through a wall, casts no shadow, leaves no footprints and likes to annoy living beings by making sounds like the clanking of chains. But most of us have come to the conclusion that ghosts are not real. We can sleep better at night because of it.

(Barbara Acerbi of Litchfield, Conn., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 4, the 248th day of 1968. There are 118 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1609, the island of Manhattan was discovered by the English explorer, Henry Hudson.

On this date:

In 1929, the German dirigible "Graf Zeppelin" completed a trip around the world.

In 1940, during World War II, Adolf Hitler boast that there would be a Nazi invasion of Britain.

In 1943, British and Canadian troops were fighting across the toes of Italy after invading the mainland.

Ten years ago — The United States said it would not hesitate to take military action to repel any attempt by Communist China to invade the Nationalist offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Five years ago—A Swiss airliner crashed near Zurich, Switzerland, killing 80 persons.

One year ago — The United States acclaimed elections in South Vietnam as a major step forward in the struggle against the Communists.

15 YEAR GUARANTEE

Wards will repair free any part of a Signature warm air furnace which fails within 1 year of purchase. During the next 14 years, Wards will furnish a replacement heat exchanger, if this should burn out or rust out, charging 1/15 of the current price for each year of use, plus installation. In addition, Wards will make free adjustments, if needed, for a 90-day period following installation. This protection plan applies only to warm air furnaces installed and used according to instructions and excludes failure due to accident or abuse.

CHECK THESE FEATURES:

- Heavy-duty steel heat exchanger of advanced design for high efficiency, maximum heat extraction.
- Rubber mounted motor and blower are dynamically balanced for quiet operation. Slides out.
- Designed for economical addition of home air conditioning.
- 100% safety pilot shuts off all gas if the pilot flame goes out.
- Combustion chamber air is sealed from heated air for safety.
- "Safety lighting valve" can't flash back when lighting.
- Completely wired with all controls except the thermostat.

15 YEAR GUARANTEE

Wards will repair free any part of a Signature warm air furnace which fails within 1 year of purchase. During the next 14 years, Wards will furnish a replacement heat exchanger, if this should burn out or rust out, charging 1/15 of the current price for each year of use, plus installation. In addition, Wards will make free adjustments, if needed, for a 90-day period following installation. This protection plan applies only to warm air furnaces installed and used according to instructions and excludes failure due to accident or abuse.

CHECK THESE FEATURES:

- Heavy-duty steel heat exchanger of advanced design for high efficiency, maximum heat extraction.
- Rubber mounted motor and blower are dynamically balanced for quiet operation. Slides out.
- Designed for economical addition of home air conditioning.
- 100% safety pilot shuts off all gas if the pilot flame goes out.
- Combustion chamber air is sealed from heated air for safety.
- "Safety lighting valve" can't flash back when lighting.
- Completely wired with all controls except the thermostat.
